1987 SOUTHERNER

Stephen Phillips, Editor
Warren K. Dunn, Advisor

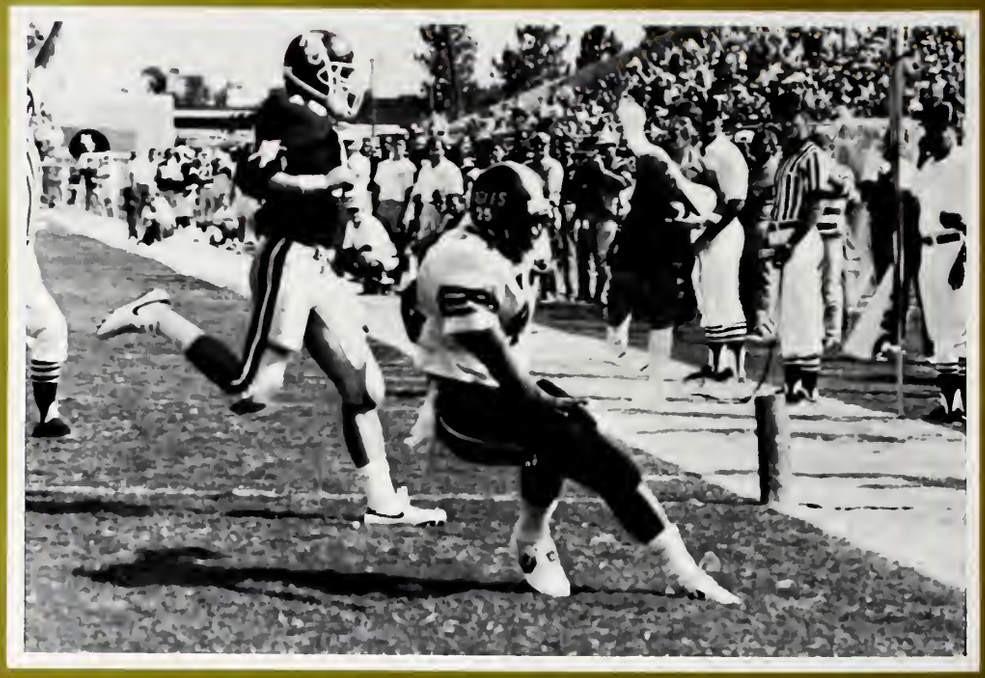
Have you ever heard someone refer to their life or a friend's life as a "soap opera?" To a point . . .

some people's lives may be just that.

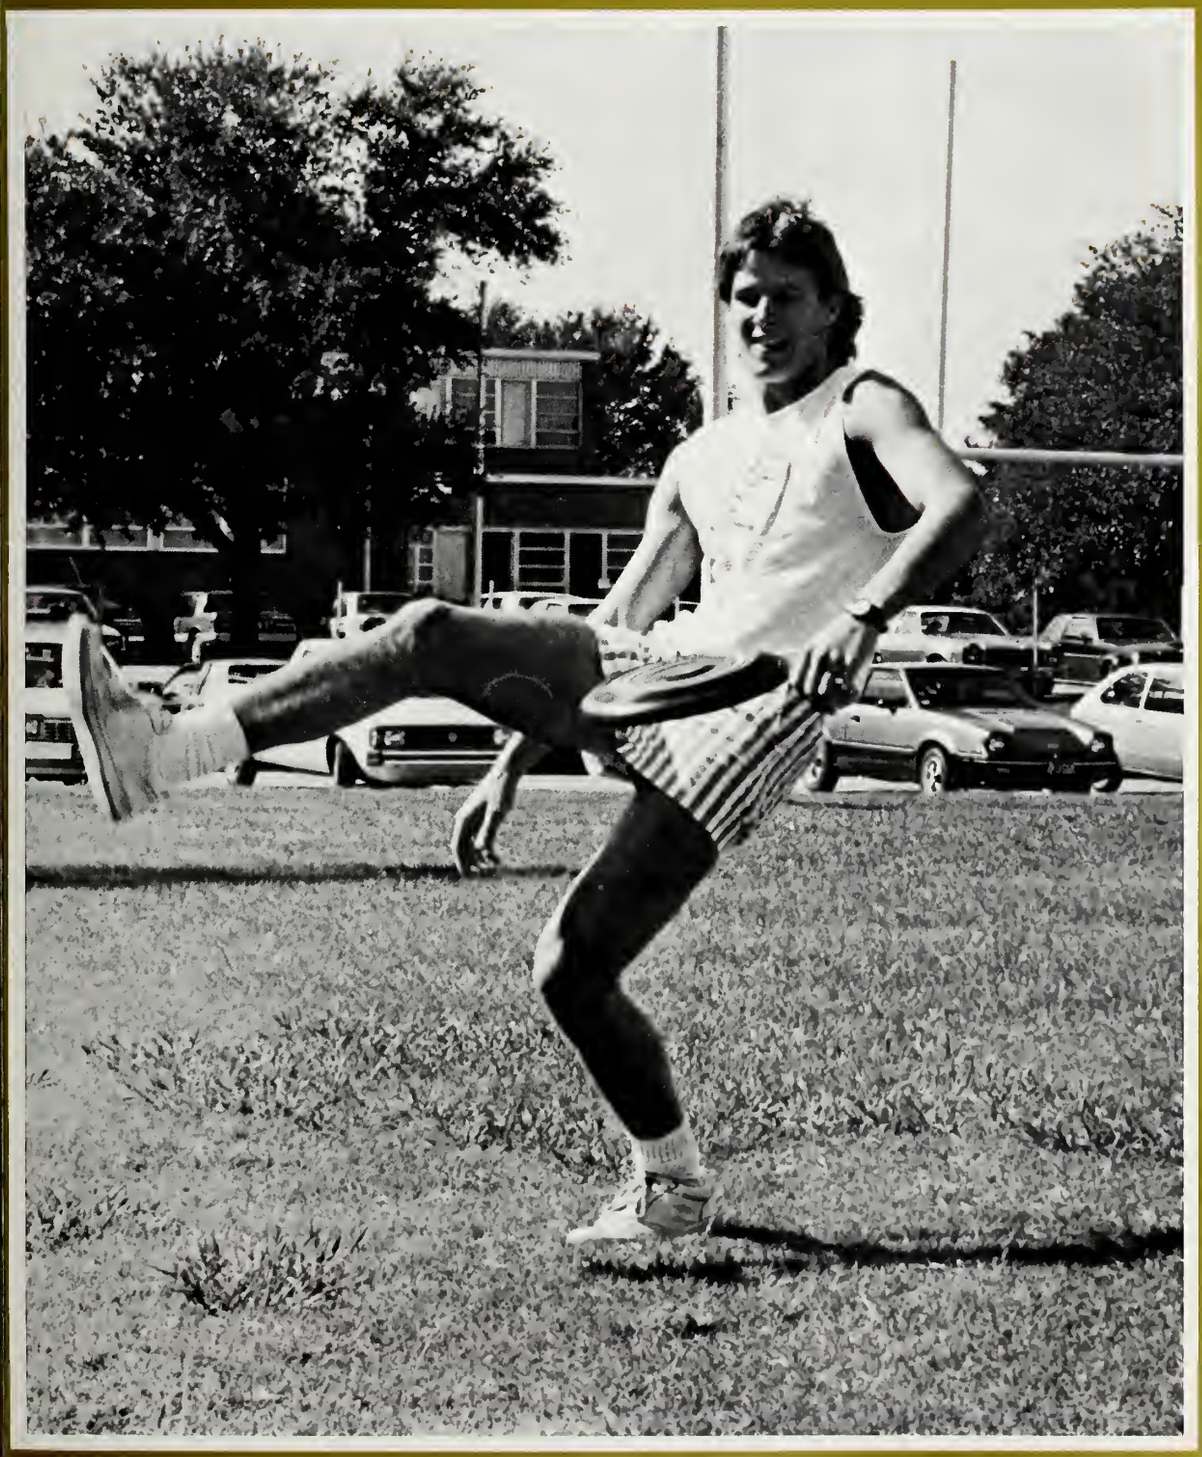
Think back to the first week of school.

The Young and Restless have just arrived to begin what we consider to be . . .

the best "Days of Our Lives."



DONNA B MARRY ME JW



College seemed like "Another World".

No one really knows what to expect in the fashion scene until they return to school. It is goodbye to the simple clothing of hometown visits and hello to the new, sometimes outrageous college wear. From the unmatched earrings to the oversized everything, it was harder to distinguish between men's and women's clothing; denim jackets, pierced ears, and long hair prevailed for both sexes.

The big fashion news for the year was the outbreak of Coca-Cola clothes, which were followed by Pepsi. However, the Guess clothing was still a popular favorite. Another fashion trend for the year was the outburst of silver and gold shoes which were accompanied by matching handbags. These trends, along with many others, were seen on campuses throughout the nation. Undoubtly as frequently happens, these trends will dissipate only to be followed by another quick setting scene.

to their new lifestyle was easily adapted.

Our "Guiding Light" tried to teach us about the next phase of our lives.

DR. AUBREY K. LUCAS

Interview With Dr. Lucas

In the 1986-87 school year, the University of Southern Mississippi had to survive yet another budget cut which, among other things, resulted in the loss of the 26 USM faculty members. USM President, Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas said although some professors felt the need to leave the state for higher paying jobs, many faculty members showed their commitment to the University by remaining here. "I think that regardless of what comes our way we have within ourselves the resources and the resolve to handle the issues and the challenges. During this crisis, we found that faculty, staff and students care very deeply about this institution, and they're willing to work hard to come forward with ways to adjust to budget cuts and other such setbacks."

"But even though this kind of commitment will keep many here," he said, "we must not count on this commitment. We need clear expressions from our legislators that the state of Mississippi does value higher education." However, while USM did lose almost 5 percent of its faculty, the University received a $10 million grant from the federal government to build a polymer science research complex on campus. Lucas said the facility will "have far reaching implications for the entire University. We'll have ongoing research activities here which will bring to this University outstanding scientists, not only in polymer science, but in physics, biology and chemistry as well." USM also has collected more than $5 million in its efforts to raise $7.5 million as part of its 75th anniversary celebration.

Lucas said he feels confident that the University will reach its goal by USM's 1987 Homecoming

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

USM's College of Business Administration helps meet the needs of business on every level by training students to become professionals in their fields. Drawing continuously from their foundational training, USM graduates prosper as government business administrators, accountants and consultants among many other possibilities.

At the undergraduate level the students spend their first two years under a strong Liberal Arts background. After those two years students focus their business training in the departments of Economics, Finance, General Business, Management, and Marketing.

At the graduate level, the students are offered a Masters of Professional Accountancy and Masters of Business Administration. All of these programs are accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. The college is a member of the Southern Business Administration Association.

Whatever their business interest, USM students can be certain that the college of Business Administration is providing them professional training for success.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

The College of Education and Psychology is among the finest training facilities in the country. Programs offered by the college produce excellent teachers, legal and executive secretaries, office managers, social services directors and case workers, and many other professions.

Interaction with the public, along with the combination of specialized departments within the college, gives students strong academic foundations and practical experience. While promoting research programs such as the Office of Student Teaching, the Psychology Center, the Center for Community Education, the Counseling Psychology Laboratory, and Children's Laboratory of Learning make valuable contributions to the public.

The college holds membership in the American Association of Teachers' Education, and all undergraduate teacher programs are fully accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Other programs in the college serve the needs of those seeking psychology and counseling careers with full accreditation by the American Psychological Association.

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

USM's College of Fine Arts benefits not only Fine Arts majors but the entire campus and community as well. Talent is consistently exposed by the college which helps students build confidence as well as skills while encouraging cultural activities. The Department of Theatre and Dance, and the School of Music all comprise this college.

The college encourages creativity and self expression. Both students and faculty participate in recitals, art exhibits, plays, and concerts; many of these have become traditions at USM. Each department offers various programs which are held throughout the year and are open to the public.

Art, Music, or Theatre and Dance—students in the College of Fine Arts are building solid foundations in both academics and performance that will lead to future success.

Senator Terrence Mixon

Dean Walter E. Cooper

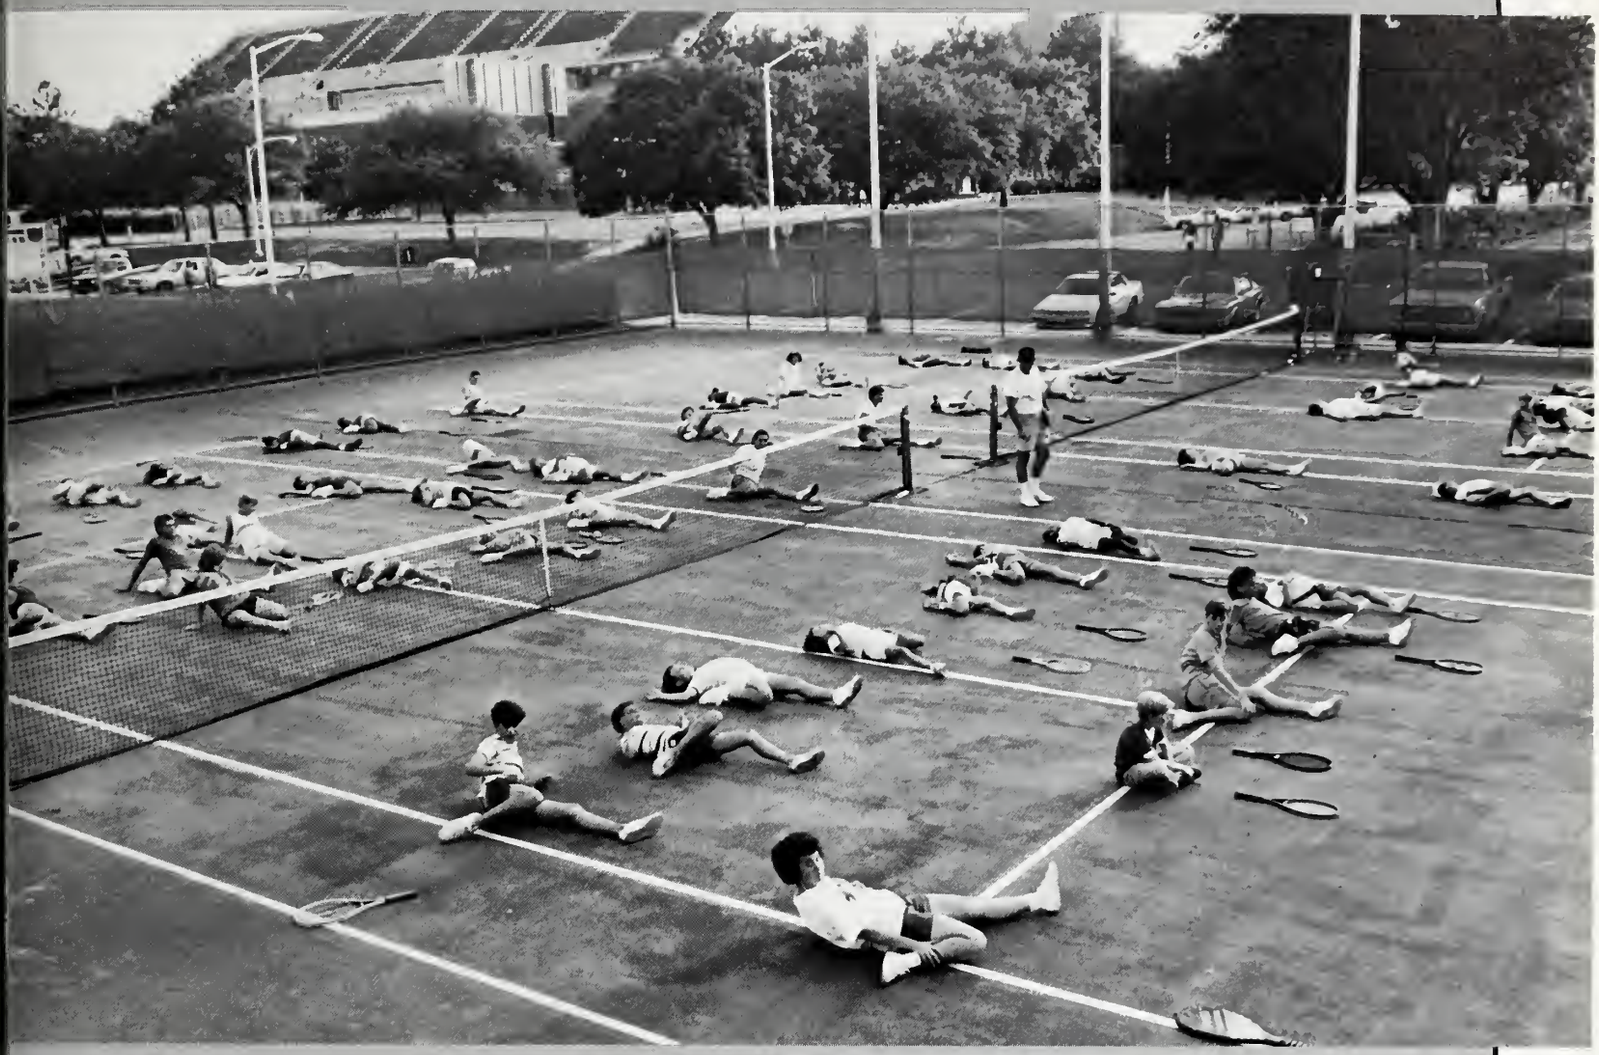
SCHOOL OF HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION

To meet the needs of the public, USM's College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation is preparing students to become professionals in such fields as athletic coaching and teaching, community health education, business and industry fitness, therapy, and recreation management.

USM's athletic facilities, intramural activities, extramural sports clubs, and recreational services give students in the college practical experience in their field while serving the campus community's fitness and recreational needs.

Besides the Department of Intramural-Recreational Sports, the school is composed of four other specialized departments. The Department of Athletic Administration and Coaching is designed to train coaches, sports administrators, and athletic trainers; this is the only program of its kind in the Southeast. The Department of Health and Safety Education offers both undergraduates and graduate level programs; the programs are designed to train professional in the intellectual, psychological and social aspects of personal, family, and community fitness. The Department of Physical Education prepares students for positions as elementary or secondary physical education teachers or as corrective therapists; this is one of the nation's ten accredited therapy programs. The Department of Recreation offers undergraduate level programs that focus on the wise development and use of natural resources including recreation managegent and therapeutic recreation.

Senator Don Diboll



Dean Allene G. Vaden

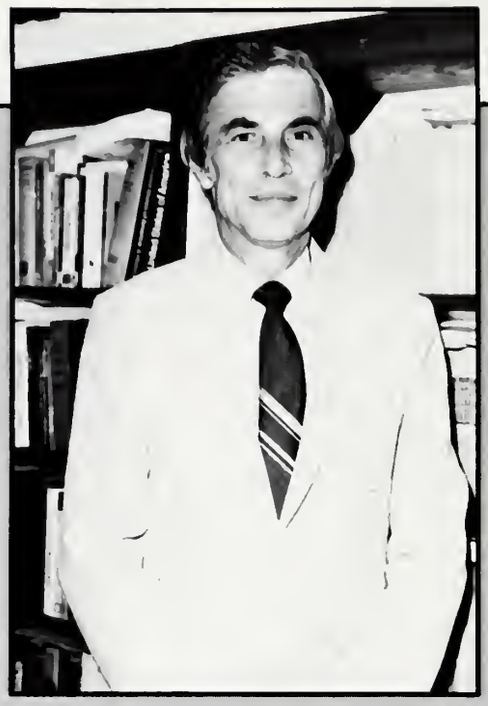
USM's School of Home Economics is preparing students to confidently enter exciting, competitive careers in various areas. Faculty members give their students the full benefit of their professional and academic backgrounds. The curriculum provides not only academic foundations but practical experience as well.

The School of Home Economics is composed of three departments. The Department of Environmental Design, specializes in Interior Design, Clothing Merchandising, and Clothing and Textiles. In the Department of Family Life Studies and Home Economics Education or Home Economics in Business. The Department of Institution Administration trains students to be professional in service careers such as Hotel Management, and Tourism. The Charcoal Room on Campus and Southern Inn are USM facilities where students operate in professional climates under faculty supervision.

Senators Jill Hardy and Eric Norborg



Dean G. Terry Harper

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

The University of Southern Mississippi's College of Liberal Arts offers traditional and interdisciplinary programs that can be custom-suited to almost any student's educational pursuits. Students, in every area of study, are encouraged to strengthen their intellectual abilities while pursuing their personal interest. Graduates pursue careers such as foreign service, entertainment, philosophy, and anthropology.

Specialized undergraduate and graduate programs are available in the college's departments which include Aerospace Studies, Criminal Justice, English, Foreign Languages, Geography and are Development, History, Journalism, Military Science, Political Science, Philosophy and Religion, Radio, Television, and Film, Sociology, Anthropology, Speech Communication, and Speech/Hearing Services. Each department emphasizes a broad based curriculum that involves study, research, and application.

Dean Onva K. Boshears

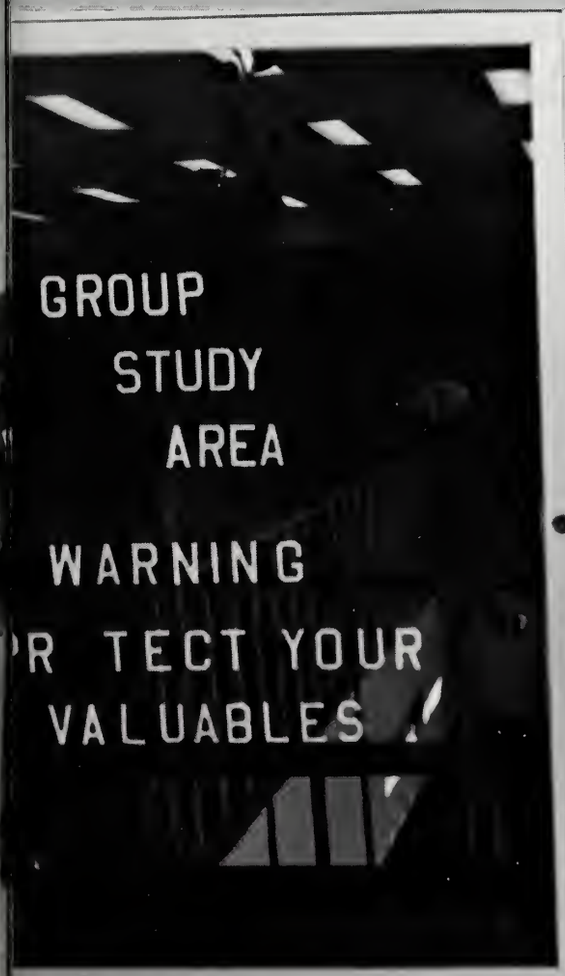
SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SERVICE

The School of Library Service at the University of Southern Mississippi trains students to become professional librarians by utilizing experience with the various kinds of print resources available. The school offers practical experience in library work through field trips, conferences, and the use of USM's library.

Bachelor's and Master's degrees are available in both teaching and nonteaching programs. The school is a member of the Association of American Library Schools, the American Library Association, and the Southeastern Library Association.

Founded in 1976, the school was previously an academic program within the College of Education and Psychology. Students in the library profession are advised to major in other areas before studying library science since it is a combination field.

Senator Tim Dixon



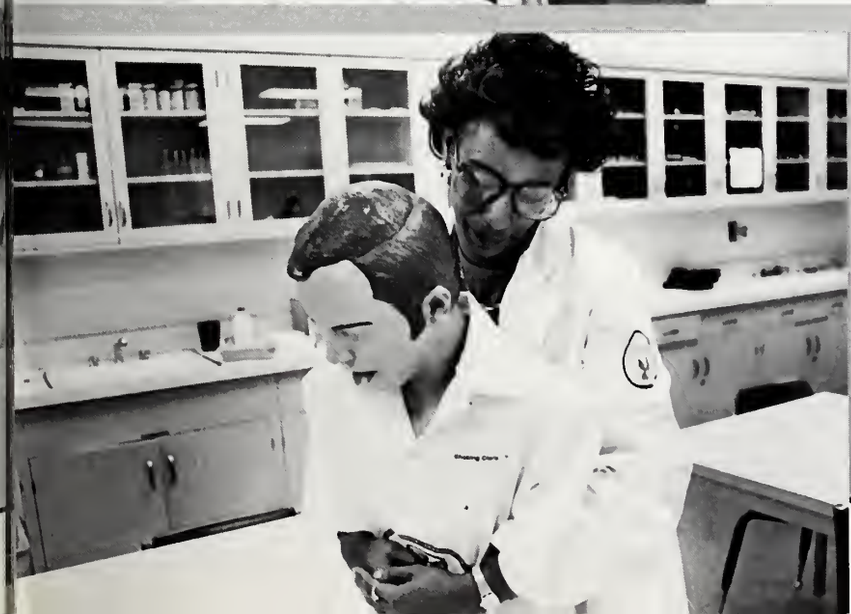
Dean Jerri L. Morgan

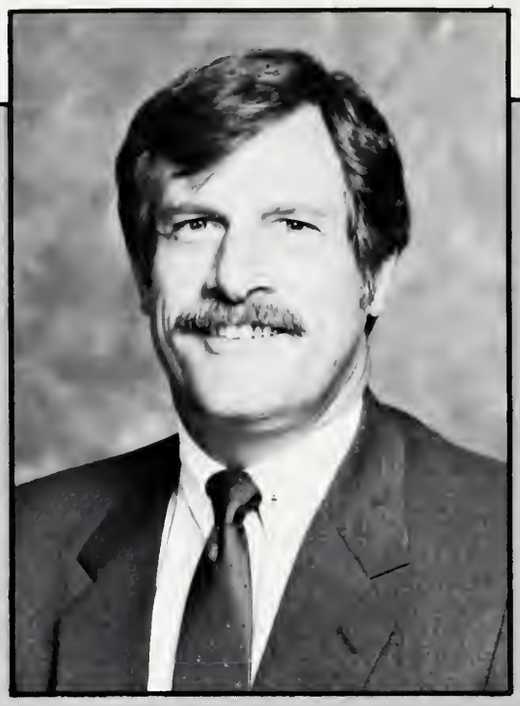
SCHOOL OF NURSING

USM's School of Nursing strives to prepare students to work as confident professionals in any of the various specialized areas of nursing. The college offers three areas of study: the undergraduate level, graduate level, and the continuing education program. Each of these programs provides both an academic foundation and practical experience in nursing. Baccalaureate graduates are fully prepared for the general practice of nursing in hospitals, community health agencies, and other health care agencies where nursing care is provided. At the graduate level students are able to specialize in a variety of fields. Also available at the graduate level are role options in teaching, administration, or clinical specialization. The Continuing Education Program is a unique program that affords Registered Nurses educational opportunities to constantly update their training and keep the nurses abreast of changes in their fast-paced field.

USM's School of Nursing offers programs in Hattiesburg, Gulf Park, and Meridian. The school is fully accredited by the National League of Nursing, and the Continuing Education program is accredited by the American Nurses Association.

Senators Mike Harris and Lamar Lott





Dean David Huffman

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

The University of Southern Mississippi trains highly motivated professionals to meet the growing needs of our high-tech world. The College of Science and Technology is designed to give students experience through learning labs that specialize in individual instruction, co-op programs, and student-assisted research programs. The curriculum combines classical courses with contemporary multidisciplinary areas to give students an understanding of industrial application and basic supervisory skills.

The five institutes of Environmental Science, Microbiology and Related Sciences, Surface Coatings, and the Mississippi Polymer Institute, as well as the twelve departments of Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science and Statistics, Construction and Architectual Technology, Geology, Industrial Technology, Mathematics, Medical Technology, Physics, Astronomy, Polymer Science, and Science Education make up the College of Science and Technology.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

To meet the needs of an increasingly specialized field, the University of Southern Mississippi offers the only graduate level degree in social work in the state; this two year program combines intense classroom work as well as field experience which allows students to apply their knowledge to real life situations.

Social work is an expanding field of study which is concerned with the interactions and transactions between people and the institutions of society which affect the ability of people to accomplish life tasks. While many social workers continue to serve in welfare departments, private social service agencies, and health departments, careers are also developing in places such as hospitals, mental health agencies, school systems, and community-based agencies.

The entire purpose of the school is to prepare future social workers to practice professionally at an advanced level and to address the needs of individuals, families, groups, and organizations. The program is very effective which is evidenced by the success of graduates in establishing secure careers that fit their own interest.

Dean Peggy Prenshaw

HONORS COLLEGE

USM's Honor College, since its establishment in 1976, has evolved into one of only fourteen Honors Colleges in the nation. The University of Southern Mississippi's Honors College provides academic and financial opportunities to a select number of outstanding students each year. The college aims to identify, encourage, and reward academic excellence in all fields and to serve students with various academic interest. The Honors College awards degrees of Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, and Summa Cum Laude.

The Honors College curriculum is designed to provide a challenging foundation for study in any field at the university. Students pursue regular undergraduates degrees while substituting Honors courses for the normally prescribed core requirements.

The college invites all USM students to enroll in Honors Forum which is a one hour course consisting of speakers, outstanding films, panel discussions, and other enrichment programs.

Eligibility requirements for the Honors College include an ACT score of 25 or higher, faculty recommendations, an extemporaneous essay, and a personal interview. Students wishing to graduate from the Honors College must take comprehensive exams in their fields of study and complete a senior project.

Sigma Nu

The Knights of Theta Gamma 164 would like to extend our most heartwarming apologies for any inconvenience that their lack of appearance in this year's yearbook might cause. The men of Sigma Nu are very active in intramurals and participate in every major social event (all of this done when studying and class schedules allow). Not only have we dedicated our existance to the improvement of our own lives, but we now have undertaken a goal, a cinderella story, a quest to discover our true meaning and sense of worth.

The Knights of Sigma Nu were informed of the severe economic depression in the village of South Bangkok. So we packed our money and our possessions and headed out for the Holy Land.

Once again, the Knights would like to apologize to the student body (whoever she is?) and the faculty of USM. But we feel that the mission is both needed and extremely important in the development of our inner spirit. We hope you will find compassion in your hearts and support us in our efforts.

Any one wishing to join us in our mission of caring and love, please contact or come by the Sigma Nu House.

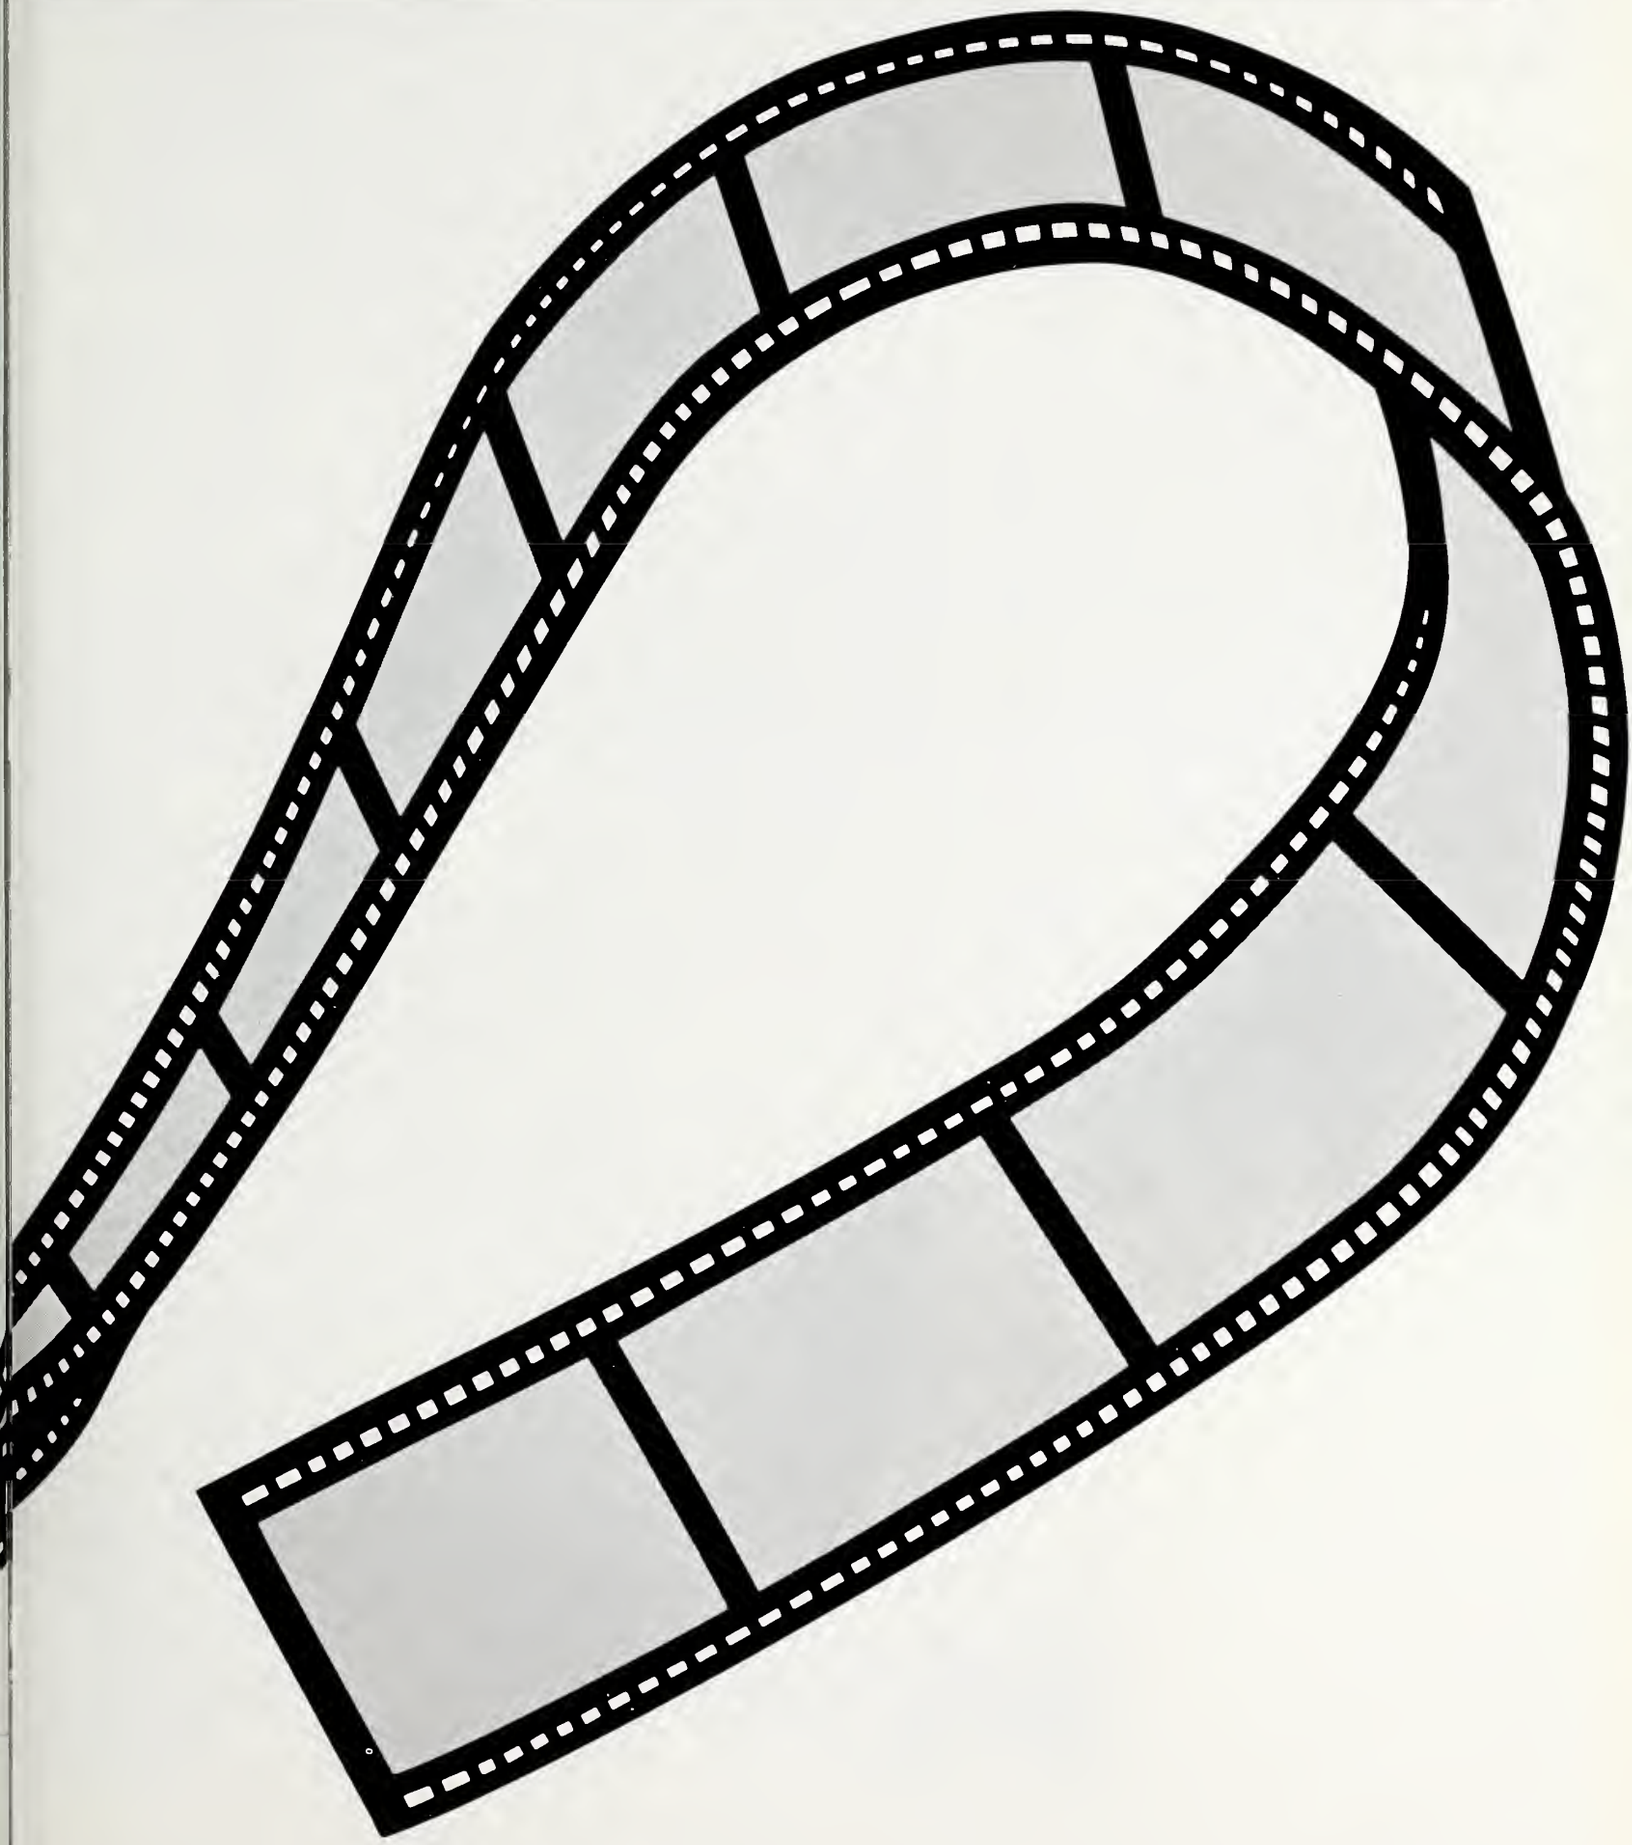
AS THE WORLD TURNS



SORORITY RUSH

What exactly is sorority rush? To answer this question, one may start by saying there are over 100 girls who strive for perfection by giving up countless hours to practice skits and songs and to work on costumes and props. These skits are performed for girls who are interested in joining a sorority. And all of this takes place during what is known as Rush Week.

All of this hard work is done for one very important objective - to find new friends who will be called sisters. During that one week, hundreds of girls go to parties, talk with sorority members, and watch skits that are designed to show rushees what sororities are all about. Once the sororities find these new sisters, you can hear sighs of relief and see tears of joy for their once again accomplished goal.

James Burke

"Science, Technology, and Change"

James Burke has been a writer and producer for the BBC and has also hosted his series "Connections," which garnered one of the largest audiences ever for a documentary series. Burke has a new series on PBS called "The Day the Universe Changed."

Burke opened his presentation with his assertion that when studying science and technology there is a "lot of manure to pick through." Burke went on to add that science uses models to explain their theories. Burke stated that frequently scientists try to make the world fit their theory instead of the other way around. No model or theory is absolute, according to Burke, which opens the door to a great many changes. Models are simply regarded as correct until something better comes along.

However, change is not always welcome, according to Burke, as it involves giving up what is known and people in general would rather fight than switch, says Burke, and it is a wonder innovation ever occurs at all.

Burke closed his evening comments by stating that we manufacture knowledge as knowledge is just version.

Margaret Avery

"An evening with Margaret Avery"

Avery, who also appeared in Which Way is Up?, The Fish that Saved Pittsburg, and Magnum Force, was nominated for an Academy Award for her portrayal of Shug Avery in The Color Purple.

Avery recounted her childhood as the daughter of a poor Navy man, and was frequently a victim of racist and prejudiced people in school and elsewhere.

Racisim seemed to follow Avery, initially cheating her out of a scholarship and then ruining her Homecoming Queen picture in her college annual. Avery became a teacher to support herself but still yearned to be an actress.

Although there were very few jobs for black actresses, Avery found work in commercials. Eventually, Avery quickly ran out of work and became depressed. Avery advised, if you see a bum . . . don't be judgemental. They're just people who couldn't cope. Avery turned to singing to earn money and moved abroad. She returned and heard about The Color Purple. She received her role as Shug after it was turned down by Tina Turner. Avery said, "Thank you God and thank you Tina!"

Avery closed her remarks with a dramatic poetry presentation and the restatement of her belief that one should believe in yourself and go for what you want in life.

Helen Suzman, M.P.

"Will South Africa Survive?"

Suzman is a member of the Anti-Partheid Progressive Party in South Africa, and voiced her opposition to the oppressive apartheid government. Suzman was also a nominee for a Nobel Peace Prize for four years in a row.

Suzman stated that her topic for the evening's commentary might better be entitled "What sort of South Africa will survive in a post-apartheid society?" Suzman said that she was against United States sanctions against South Africa as she felt it would do more harm than good. Suzman added that because she was not in favor of sanctions should not imply that she is pro-apartheid or racist. Suzman believes that apartheid dismantlement best be done by incremental changes, not a simplistic transfer of power.

Suzman believes that the answer lies in instant solutions or sanction but in economic expansion, recognition or black trade unions, and inclusion of black political organizations. Suzman said that it is not locusts, the price of oil, communists, or daought that has impaired South Africa, but apartheid.

Ray Bonner

"Response to Revolution: Central America and the Phillipines"

Ray Bonner is a free lance journalist whose study and coverage of the Phillipines has led to the publishing of a book. Bonner said his book will be an indepth study of the Marcos regeime that will go "beyond the 6:00 news."

Bonner opened his presentation with his assertion that the United States government "still hasn't learned to deal with revolutions in other parts of the world." To understand the causes of the revolution, Bonner Questioned the United States' right to interfere in the domestic disturbances of another country and said, "What right do we have to overturn another country's government?" However, Bonner pointed out the argument he poses does not include the U.S.'s right to protect itself and it's borders.

Bonner uses the example of the Phillipines as a prime case study of the United States' tendency to stay cozy with dictators. Bonner explained that the U.S. witnessed the "mugging of democracy" in the Phillipines by setting up a democracy only to watch it fall.

Susan Sontag

"Traditions of the New"

Susan Sontag, novelist, short-story writer, critic, cultural essayist, and film director, spoke on her theories of the modern: what it means, and where that meaning came from.

Sontag also approached the subject of nature and doing what is natural. Sontag stated, "If nature is, it doesn't need our support." Sontag finally concluded that "the modern" is characterized by self-consciousness about the time in which we live.

Sontag also spoke on her ideas concerning the references to a time period by decades (e.g. the 60's). Sontag asserted that the process of naming a decade is relatively a new idea. "Nobody 50 years ago did that," Sontag commented. The 60's seemed to be the first decade that ever spoke of time in the form of decades. In the 60's it became popular to talk about the 50's, Sontag said. Sontag also discussed the fact that the 20th Century has been referred to as modern (hence, 20th Century Fox). Sontag blames this reference to one's own time and awareness of the style of one's own time on the influence of television which Sontag called "the single worst thing in the world."

George Feifer

"Love, Vodka, Laughter, Tears: A Look at Soviet Life Under the Surface"

George Feifer presented an afternoon of open-house Soviet television and then spoke on what he felt is a great number of misconceptions held by the Soviets and Americans about one another.

Feifer said that the Russian people yearn desperately for peace and are very warm friendly people. Feifer said that Americans view the Russians as dull, drab, and humorless due to fear and lack of understanding. The Russians feel very much picked on and are saddened over the failure of Socialism. Feifer pointed out that Russians really had two lives; a serious outer personality which is cold and used for business; and a warm, kind, witty personality as they are at home away from governmental regulation.

Feifer said that there is a huge amount of propaganda spread about the USSR; Americans believe the worst because it's nice to think that the enemy is rotten.

Feifer closed his remarks by stating that once you get past the outer, hard, cold shell of a Russian's personality, the people are friendly, and compassionate and kind.

Jr. Panhellenic Talent Show

One of the major projects sponsored by the Jr. Panhellenic Council is their annual talent show. Students are encouraged to participate each year in a friendly but competitive contest. The winners for 1987 were Tricia Purser and Kris Gaines who stole the show with a dance routine.

The proceeds from the talent show were placed in the Junior Panhellenic Scholarship Fund.

Miss Panhellenic 1987

Suzanne Lumpkin, a senior from Picayune was crowned Miss Panhellenic on March 23. Miss Lumpkin who is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority took 1st place in the essay and activity sheet categories.

The contestants were judged in 5 areas—talent, evening gown, interview, essay, and activity sheets. These categories were selected to choose someone who has made a tremendous contribution not only to her sorority but to USM.

Alternates were Patricia Hammett of Delta Delta Delta, 1st alternate and Becki Barcellona of Delta Zeta, 2nd alternate and winner of the interview competition. Other contestants were Debbie Speiss, Julie McDonald, and Ellen Ferrell.

Entertainment was provided by contestant director Hank Phillips, Michelle Hale, and Anita Phillips, Miss Panhellenic 1986.

The contest was sponsored by the ATO fraternity to raise money for charitable organizations.

BILLY OCEAN &

The combination of rock n' roll and Caribbean sounds delighted a crowd of over 4000 people as Billy Ocean performed his hit songs in July. Ocean performed many of his past hits as well as his latest top 10 hit, "There'll Be Sad Songs."

The crowd greeted Ocean with wild applause and showed their enthusiasm by singing the chorus for Ocean's song, "When the Going Gets Tough," his hit theme from the movie "Jewel of the Nile." The highest point of excitement was as Ocean sang his first hit single, "Caribbean Queen." Following a wardrobe change, the crowd was treated to an impressive light show as Ocean performed his hit "Loverboy."

Opening for Billy Ocean was Me'lisa Morgan. Her upbeat songs generated almost as much excitement as the star act. At the close of her set she received a standing ovation.

ME'LISA MOORE

Hank Williams, Jr.

On February 28, 1987 at the Reed Green Coliseum, Hank Williams, Jr. backed by the Bama Band with the opening act Earl Thomas Conley performed in a country music spectacular. The audience largely consisted of country music fans from around the state, many who are emphatic followers of "Bocephus" (nickname for Hank Williams, Jr.)

Conley popularly known to his followers as ETC performed his big mellow hits like "I Can't Win For Losing You", "Too Many Times" and "If Leaving You Was Easy." Most of Etc's performance featured love ballads that had the audience lighting cigarette lighters and matches.

Bocephus opened his great performance with his current hit "My Name Is Bocephus" which set the audience in a downright honky-tonk mood. A big surprise was Hank's cover version of the Georgia Satellites big hit "Keep Your Hands To Yourself" which had tremendous crowd response. Hank's 1987 performance differed from his 1985 visit to USM in that he was less rowdy and performed more ballads like "I Hate."

HOMECOMING WEEK . . .

One of the most hectic weeks of school is always the week before Homecoming. All around campus students are working endless hours during the day and night to complete their Homecoming floats. Of course, along with building frames, stuffing chicken wire, and spray painting the backdrops of toilet paper with bright, vivid colors, these enthusiastic students give up their warm, cozy beds to guard their floats throughout the night.

Traffic becomes jammed as people stop to look at floats and to talk to friends who are working diligently. The sounds from various stereo systems and jam boxes echo throughout the campus 24 hours a day for this week. As any passer-by can see, competition is definitely in the air.

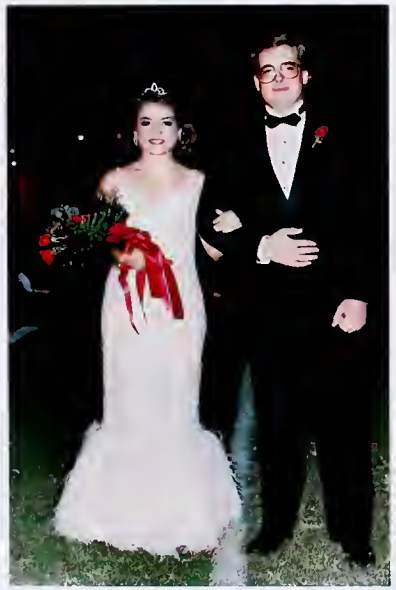
1986 Homecoming Court



Cindy Simpson, a senior from Biloxi, was crowned 1986 Homecoming Queen of the University of Southern Mississippi on October 18, 1986.

In the four years that Cindy attended the University of Southern Mississippi, she was very active on campus and in the Pi Beta Phi sorority. She was a member of the USM Golden Girls and the University Activities Council in which she served on the advertising committee. She was selected for Southern Style and served as Secretary, Order of Omega, Rho lambda, and the American Marketing Association. As a member of Pi Beta Phi, Cindy served as Pledge Class President, Panhellenic Delegate, Vice-President of Mental Advancement, and various committee chairmanships.

Cindy, who is majoring in marketing, hopes to pursue a successful career in marketing and eventually would like to open her own business.

Cindy's escort for the evening was Todd Courtney, Associated Student Body President.

MISS SOUTHERN PAGEANT

Mitzi Swanson

As Sharon Bentz, Miss Southern 1986, proceeded down the runway on her final walk, the audience and contestants waited anxiously to see who would be the next young lady to wear the crown. Being a preliminary for the Miss America Pageant, the participants were judged in swimsuit, evening gown, and talent competitions. Each contestant also had a personal interview with the judges earlier on the day of the pageant.

Mitzi Swanson, a junior from Houlka, was chosen Miss Southern 1987 by a panel of five judges. Being a home economics education major, Mitzi placed first in the talent competition.

Alternates for 1987 were Melinda Rayner of Ellisville, first alternate; Tricia Purser of Picayune, second alternate and also winner of the swimsuit competition; Monique Brooks of Columbus, third alternate; and Suzanne Lumpkin of Picayune, fourth alternate. Other winners were Stacey Graves who received the Director's Award and Elizabeth Edwards who was chosen Miss Congeniality.

The theme for the Miss Southern Pageant, which was sponsored by the Associated Student Body and hosted by the ladies of Delta Gamma, was "Celebrate USM." Cindy Brown, a senior from Jackson, was the executive director for the event. Entertainment chosen for the pageant was provided by the master of ceremonies, Dr. Blaine Quarnstrom, Sharon Bentz, and Southern Exposure. Live music was provided by Raoul Jerome and the USM Jazz Lab Band.

Other contestants in the pageant were Sabrina Herring, Deanna Miles, and Lisa Shackelford.

GREEK GOD & GODDESS

Chuck Maxie & Paula Gates

The 1986 Greek Goddess is Paula Gates. She is a graduate student with a major in Hotel and Restaurant Administration and a minor in Management. Paula is from Wiggins, Mississippi and is active in Pi Beta Phi sorority. She has served as Pi Phi Social Committee Chairman and was selected Athlete of the year by her sorority. Paula has represented Pi Phi on campus by being involved in the Society for Advancement of Management and the IFSEA-IAD.

Chuck Maxie, a junior from Hattiesburg, Mississippi, was named Greek God. He is majoring in Banking and Finance with a minor in Economics. He said that after graduation he would like to pursue a job as either a stockbroker or an investment broker and possibly own a gym. Chuck is an active member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

GREEK GAMES

Greek week! These words mean only one thing to a Greek competitor. Fraternities and sororities are randomly paired, and the teams compete in the week's activities which end Saturday at Greek Games. Jersey days, marathon run, a parade, tug-of-war, and the selection of Greek God and Goddess are among the many activities that take place.

Pi Beta Phi was a member of the winning team for the fourth consecutive year when the Pi Phi/Kappa Alpha team won the competition in 1986.

"Ladies of the Alamo"

USM's Department of Theater and Dance opened it's fall season with the production of "Ladies of the Alamo" on October 14. Written by Pulitzer Prize-winning author Paul Zindel, "Ladies of the Alamo" centered around five women involved in a power struggle for control of a theater in Texas.

The theater's director, who had a record of bad management, found herself on the verge of being ousted by the president of the board and replaced by the president's friend who is a lesbian. However, she overcame the takeover attempt with help from a lustful, alcoholic friend, and found herself in control once more. The setting for the play was an elegant reception room of the New Alamo Theater, which was celebrating its first anniversary in that building after previously operating from a converted church. USM students Lynne Hatcher as Dede, LaNell Lucius as Suits, Cindy McCool as Joanne, Cynthia Raybourn as Shirley and Lulu Ward as Bella made up the cast. R.B. Hill, assistant professor of theatre, served as director of the production.

"Ladies of the Alamo" was the first of two productions that the Department of Dance and Theater put on during the fall semester at the G.F. Hartwig Southern Arena Theater on the USM campus.

Debbie Odom

"All My Sons"

Have you ever told a lie, and to cover it up you had to tell another and another, until your whole life became one big lie and you could hardly even distinguish the truth?

That is what happens to the Keller family in one of the classics of the American stage. Arthur Miller's All My Sons. The Kellers are the typical American dream family in all except one very important way; their dream is based on lies and they are forced to wake up to the bitter nightmare, for years subdued, which is now erupting around them. The foundation for their whole existence is based on a lie which simultaneously holds them together in the beginning and rips them savagely apart in the end.

The plot revolves around Joe Keller who years before had sold defective airplane parts to the army during the war. He framed the crime, which caused the death of 21 pilots, on his partner, and in the end committed suicide to escape from an uncertain future that he would be forced to face truthfully.

USM's Department of Theatre and Dance brought its version of this intense drama to Hartwig Arena Theater February 24—March 1. And under the direction of theatre department chairman Dr. Blaine Quarnstrom, the cast and crew of this production were justified to smile as they captured the very depth of the deepest human emotions and by doing so added their own new dimension to Miller's didactic mid-century classic.

Dinner Theatre—"Deathtrap"

On April 7-12 the USM department of theater and dance's presented "Deathtrap," a comedy-thriller by Ira Levin. In conjunction with the Union Board, "Deathtrap" was performed in Hartwig Arena Theater.

From highbacked velvet couches to burgundy colored leather chairs and stained glass—and oriental rug on the floor—playwright Sidney Bruhl's Connecticut study would live up to the expectations of even the most discerning antique collector.

With swords and daggers adorning the walls, the two-act thriller unfolds pleasingly suspenseful and surprising plots and subplots, revolving around an aging playwright longing desperately, and often comically for the lost success of his youth—a desire so intense that he kills for it and dies for it.

In his portrayal of Sidney Bruhl, David Moore is credible when his character is serious, rightly contriving in his manipulation of circumstances, and sinister when sinister is called for. Turning in a good performance, especially in scenes opposite his junior partner, Moore might possibly have been still a bit more deranged in his sinister scenes.

As Myra Bruhl, the playwright's wealthy, gullible wife, Patricia Hammett makes the most of her part, being especially strong in the scene where she and Sidney rolled Brad Mooy, supposedly dead, up in the oriental rug. A character of reaction instead of action, Hammett's reactions are right on target.

Reincarnated from the "vegetable patch," Brad Mooy as novice playwright Clifford Anderson, Bruhl's protege and lover (yes lover), had probably the strongest characterization in the show. He performed with seming ease the foremost task of the actor—convincing the audience that his performance was real.

Adding the comic relief, theater veteran Tonda-Leah Fields is hilariously delightful, and Daryl Harris, in striking costume, rounds out the cast. Lighting and music are superior; director George Crook and all involved are to be commended for, once again a superb effort.

Delta Gamma Anchorsplash

On April 1 the 15th annual Delta Gamma Anchorsplash was held. It is held yearly to raise money for sight conservation, aid to the blind, and loans and grants.

Activities that make up Anchorsplash are Miss Eyes contest, Mr. Anchorsplash contest, t-shirts, and a night of swimming competition. The swimming is a variety of serious and just-for-fun events in which campus groups compete.

First place winners for 1987 were Chi Omega and Delta Tau Delta, and second place winners were Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Tau Omega. Other awards received were Mr. Anchorsplash—Tim Davidson and Miss Eyes—Cindy Simpson.

Sigma Chi Derby Day

The second annual Derby Day was held March 17-21. The competition consists of many areas in which the nine sororities were judged—spirit, fund raising, A Chorus Line, Derby Chase, Derby Darling and Derby Games.

The overall winners for 1987 were Kappa Delta, first place; Delta Delta Delta, second place; and Chi Omega, third place. Chorus Line winners were Chi Omega, first place; Phi Mu, second place; and Kappa Delta, third place. Winners of the games were Delta Delta Delta, first place; Kappa Delta, second place; and Phi Mu, third place. Derby Darling for 1987 was Kim Pope (Tri-Delta) and alternates were Kay Eckert (KD) and Sharon Crook (DG).

Rick Lutz, Jim Lynch, Sean Magee and Morgan McCarty represented Sigma Chi as Derby Daddies.

The proceeds from this year's competition went to the Diabetes Foundation.

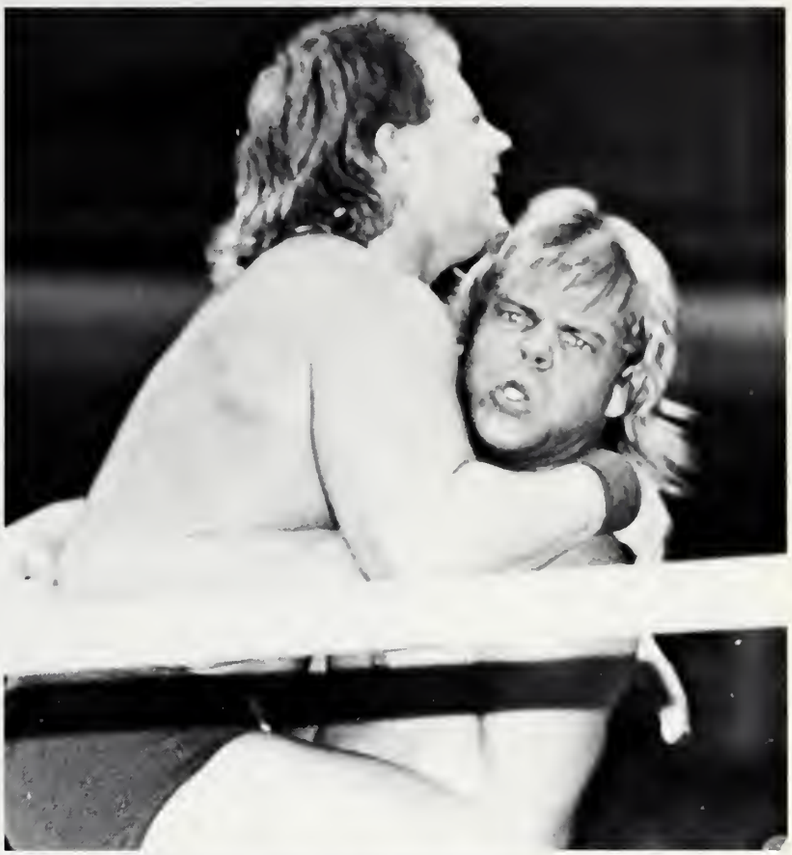
PEP

Wrestling

USM held its first Wrestling Extravaganza. It featured seven matches, two of which title belts were on the line, however there was no title change that evening.

The first match of the evening featured Nikita Koloff and Ric Flair. Nikita held Flair for the three count, but the count was called back and there was no winner declared. The second match was another title event between Ole Anderson and Tully Blanchard. Blanchard was disqualified and Anderson retained his title. In match three, Lex Lugor defeated Tim Horner, and in match four, it brought the defeat of Ivan Koloff by Jimmy Valiant. In the fifth match, Vladimer Petrov defeated Bob Armstrong with interference by his second man, Ivan. The Barbarian defeated Ricky Lee James in the sixth match, and in the final match, Nelson Royal defeated Gary Royal.

This event was only one of many sponsored by the University Activities Council.

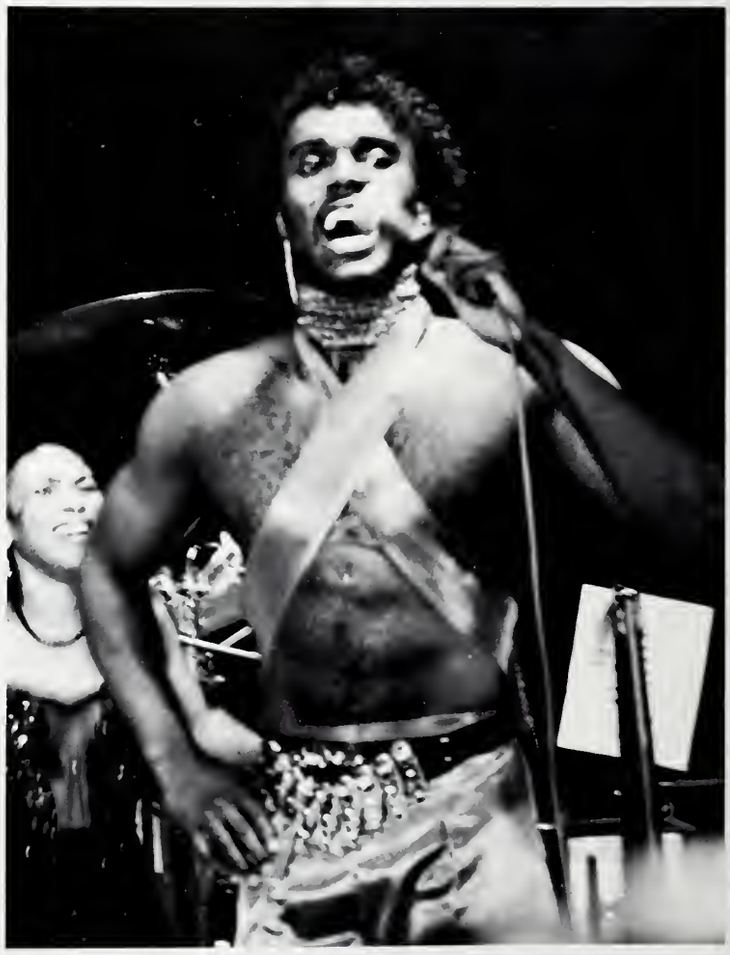


Klymaxx

On April 16, the University Activities Council and Kappa Alpha Psi sponsored a concert featuring Klymaxx. Despite difficulties with sound and light equipment, the group performed to an energetic crowd until well after midnight.

One Way, a flashy funk-soul band, opened for Klymaxx and performed admirably, winning over the crowd.

Klymaxx proved to be a crowd pleaser. As they took the stage, the lights went out, and everyone settled down to be entertained or went on the floor to dance. The all-female band played "I Miss You," "The Men All Pause," "Man-Sized Love," and other hits.



USM—Coca Cola Classic Rodeo

An icy rain fell, steam rose from the horses' backs, and faithful rodeo fans huddled under blankets in the Equestrian Center's stands to cheer on the efforts of muddy cowboys and cowgirls during the opening round of the USM-Coca Cola Classic Rodeo.

The chutes still opened, broncs bucked and rodeo clown Lecile Harris carried out his comedy acts as the temperature dropped into the 50's.

Although Mississippi had a record breaking snowfall that Friday morning, rodeo action continued throughout the weekend.

So, in spite of the weather, enthusiasm ran high among cowboys, cowgirls and fans to bring about a successful event. The event was sponsored by the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

THE UAC SPRING FLING

The University Activities Council's SPRING THING, a week of rides, rock and roll, games, and movies opened Tuesday, April 21 and lasted through Sunday, April 26. Thousands of students and members of the community turned out to ride rides like the double ferris wheel, the Pirate Ship, and the Gravitron; to play games and eat classic carnival food like funnel cakes and candied apples.

On Tuesday night Non-Stop jammed for two funk-packed sets including a medley of favorite rap songs and some fresh covers of "I'm Looking for a New Love," "Word Up," and "Stand by Me."

Wednesday night the Gulfport-based band Change to Eden performed to a large audience. They played covers from U2, Led Zeppelin, the Doors, and their own originals.

The UAC SPRING THING left with a week's worth of entertainment that will be remembered.

Mary Dempster—Anheuser-Busch

The most exciting and memorable event for USM in 1987 was the NIT Basketball Championship. Students and alumni watched the Golden Eagles soar to victory through five wins. Students united to celebrate the triumph.

September 30, 1986, was the last legal drinking day for alcohol consumers under 21. On October 1, the law prohibiting consumption of alcohol among persons under 21 came into effect. The legislation was passed in 1985 in response to federal action. In 1984, President Reagan signed a bill requiring states to raise their drinking age to 21 or suffer a 5% cut from their highway funds in 1987 and 10 percent each year thereafter. His reasoning was that a reduction in the number of drinkers from the 18-20 age group would substantially decrease the amount of DUI accidents and fatalities.

As a result of the 21 law, persons under 21 cannot buy, consume or serve alcoholic beverages. Violators will be forced to pay stiff fines and/or participate in a minimum number of hours of community service. Those under 21 who are caught drinking or with an invalid identification will pay a $25-$500 fine and be ordered to serve a maximum of 30 days community service. Those buying drinks for others under 21 will suffer a $100-$500 fine and at least 30 days community service.The violator may also forfeit his or her drivers license. Establishments that serve alcohol and their employees can also be held accountable for serving minors.

While many are skeptical of the new law, especially drinkers under 21, others feel that it could only help the state. They profess that no state can afford to lose $5 million a year in highway funds, nor can it afford to lose the lives of those who die from drinking incidents.

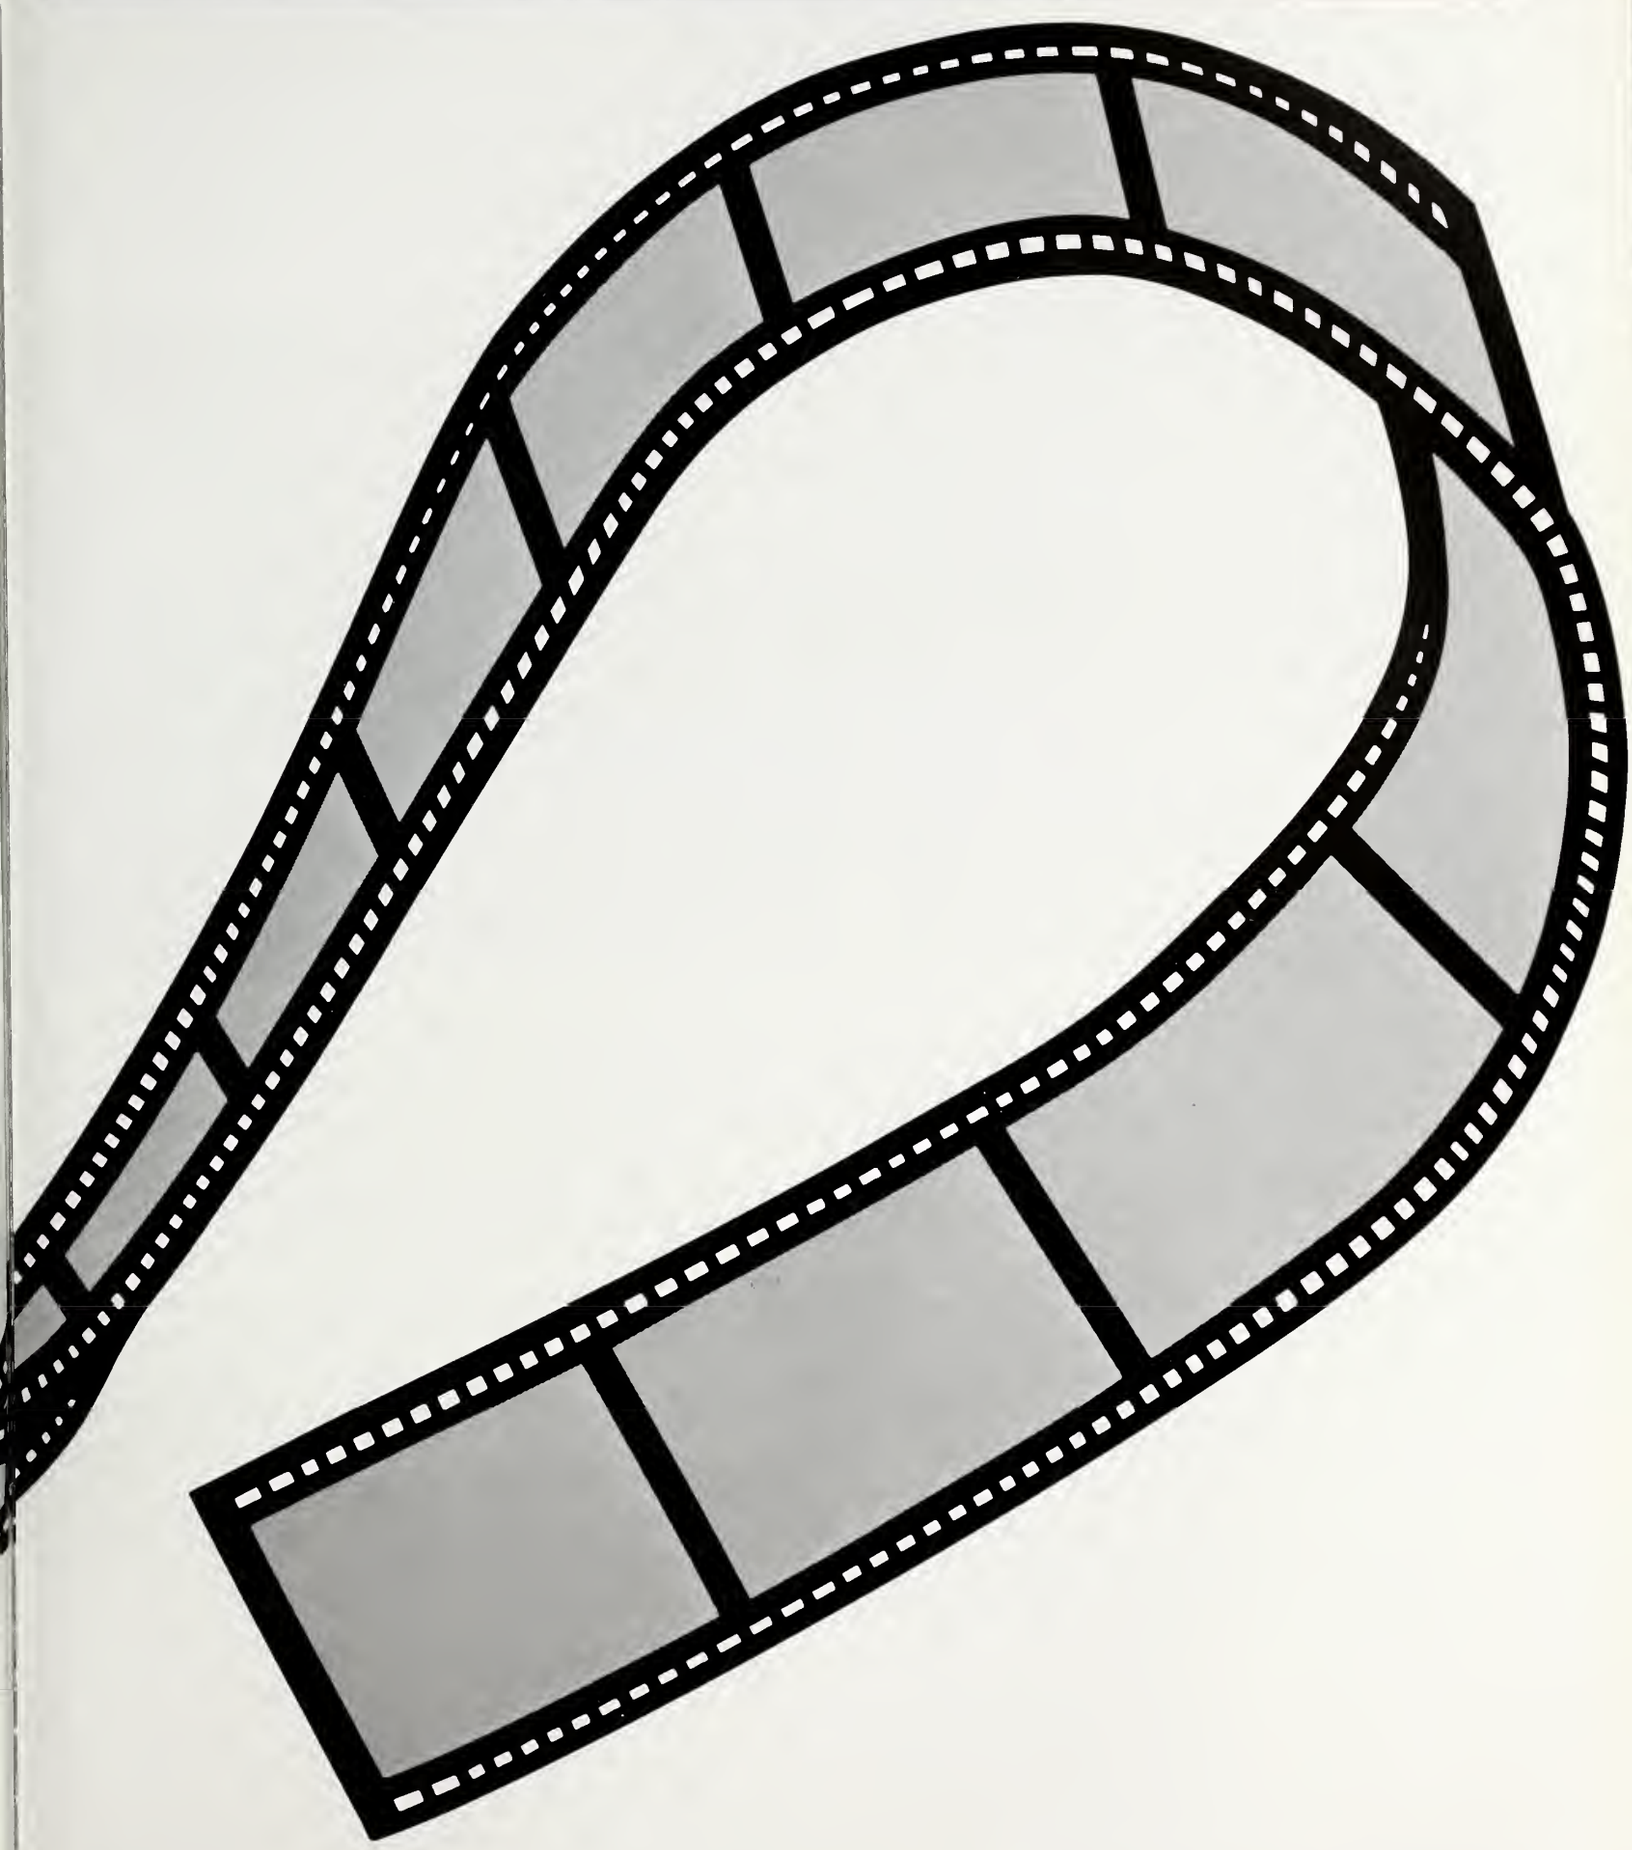
ONE LIFE TO LIVE



GOLDEN EAGLE FOOTBALL

1986 was filled with many memorable moments, both good and bad. It featured both heart-stopping wins and heartbreaking losses for Golden Eagle fans. In years to come, when the 1986 season is being recalled, two events will be at the top of the list — THE DRIVE and THE PLAY.

USM 28
NORTHEAST LA. 19

USM 28 NORTHEAST LA. 19—The Golden Eagles opened the season in the friendly confines of M.M. Roberts Stadium, as the Indians of NLU came to town. The majority of USM's followers didn't expect the Division 1-AA Indians to be much of a threat, but were quickly surprised. NLU, coming off of a season in which they finished 11th in the nation, held the Golden Eagles to a scoreless tie in the first quarter and then to a 3-0 lead at the outset of the second quarter. A one-yard plunge by Randolph Brown put USM on top, but a 43-yard scoring pass put NLU back in the lead 10-7. A short run by Vincent Alexander gave USM a 14-10 halftime lead.

The Nasty Bunch came to life to help seal the victory for the Golden Eagles. A Shelton Gandy Touchdown gave USM a 21-10 advantage, but a field goal and a touchdown by NLU cut it to 21-19. The Nasty Bunch broke up a potentially tieing two-point conversion, and two key interceptions snuffed Indian drives. A 38-yard run by Brown put the game out of reach.

ALABAMA 31

ALABAMA 31 USM 17—The Golden Eagles traveled to Birmingham's Legion Field to face a Crimson Tide team considered by many to be a frontrunner for the national championship. USM shocked the crowd of 71,000 by taking a 7-0 lead less than three minutes into the game when linebacker Onesimus Henry grabbed Tide quarterback Mike Shula's first pass and returned it 54 yards for a Golden Eagle touchdown. Bama bounced right back to tie it up at 7-7, but Rex Banks put USM back on top 10-7 with a 27-yard field goal with 1:25 left in the half. The lead was short-lived however, as Shula led a very efficient drive down the field and scored with seven seconds left in the half.

An inspired Tide team came out the second half ready to take control of the game. Take control they did, as they ran their lead to 31-10 before the Golden Eagles knew what was happening. USM cut the lead to 31-17 with a 13-yard scoring pass, but Alabama ran out the clock and preserved to win.

'NUF SAID

USM	28
MSU	24

USM 28 MISSISSIPPI STATE 24—Probably the biggest win of the season for USM, this game was capitalized by what has become known around the state as THE DRIVE. The two teams spent the whole game trading off scores—each team scored once in each quarter. In the second quarter a 66-yard scamper by Shelton Gandy broke a 7-7 tie, but a controversial series of plays followed that resulted in a 59-yard scoring pass for the Bulldogs and a 14-14 halftime score.

In the fourth quarter State broke a 21-21 tie when they nailed a field goal to move in front 24-21. The Golden Eagle's hopes appeared to be dashed when a Bulldog punt was downed on the USM two with under five minutes left in the game.

The offense came onto the field knowing that the goal line and subsequently, victory lay 98 yards away. There were 29 seconds remaining in the contest when Gandy began celebrating his fourth touchdown of the day and the win that came with it. USM's efforts in this game were recognized across the nation also, as Gandy was named Southeastern Player of the Week by both the AP and the UPI and Sports Illustrated did a story on the game.

HOW 'BOUT THEM EAGLES!

Texas A&M	16
USM	7

The Aggies, known for their powerful offense, found out that past efforts don't work in the present games, as USM gave them all they could handle before pulling out the win. USM shut down quarterback Kevin Murray and company completely as both teams went to the locker room at the half with a 0-0 tie. A&M threatened late in the first half, but an interception by "The Big O," Onesimus Henry, in the endzone ended that.

In the third quarter the Aggies got on the board first with a short field goal and later increased it to 10-0 on a short touchdown. USM cut the deficit to 10-7, but two late field goals by A&M put it out of reach. Though the Golden Eagles lost the game, they won a lot of respect by doing something very few teams could do—hold the Aggies to just one touchdown.

Kentucky	32

USM held the Wildcats to just three field goals in the first half, but the dam broke in the second—UK tallied three touchdowns and another field goal to rout the Golden Eagles.

EAGLE FEVER!

USM	24
Memphis State	9

A winless Tiger team came into Rogers Stadium for USM's homecoming game. Most predicted USM would gain an easy victory, especially after a 65-yard scoring play with just over a minute gone in the game. A MSU touchdown followed late in the quarter, but the Golden Eagles retained a precarious 7-6 lead when the PAT was missed. A Tiger field goal gave them a 9-6 halftime lead, along with hopes for their first win. The score remained unchanged until late in the third quarter when Andrew Anderson hit Lyneal Alston on a 30-yard touchdown pass to put USM on top again. A key fumble recovered by the defense clinched the victory for the Golden Eagles.

Tulane	35
USM	20

After swapping scores during the first half, USM took a 17-14 lead into the locker room at the half. Early in the third quarter Tulane went ahead for good, 21-17. The Green Wave added another touchdown late in the quarter to increase their lead to 28-17 before Rex Banks cut it by three with a 48-yard field goal. Tulane added another touchdown after that to increase their lead.

LUV' MY EAGLES!

USM	23
East Carolina	21

USM 23 East Carolina 21—If the Mississippi State game was captured by THE DRIVE, then this game was gained by THE PLAY. The Pirates got on the board first, but USM soon tailed and the score tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter. ECU scored again in the half when the PAT was missed.

As the second half got underway, the Golden Eagles tied the score 13-13 on two Rex Banks field goals, one of which was from 52 yards out. A short drive by Shelton Gandy early in the fourth quarter put USM on top for the first time, 20-17. That score held up until extremely late in the game, when the Pirates hit a 21-yard scoring pass to cut the Golden Eagles' lead to one. A successful two-point conversion put ECU on top 21-20 with only eight seconds left in the contest and apparently clinched the win. USM wasn't giving up yet, however. A 'Hail Mary' pass from Andrew Anderson to Lyneal Alston was caught in traffic. Right before the Pirates' defense brought him down, he pitched the ball to Randolph Brown who took it in to score. There was a flag on the play, however-illegal lateral by Alston. If ECU didn't take the penalty the touchdown stood, so they had no choice. With time expired, Banks came in and calmly chipped in a game-winning 31-yard field goal.

USM 17 USL 0—In perhaps the finest total game by the defense all season, the Nasty Bunch shut down the Ragin' Cajuns for their only goose egg of the season. The key factor was the five sacks the defense registered, killing some key drives. USM led 10-0 at the half, after a field goal by Rex Banks in the first quarter and an eight-yard run by Shelton Gandy in the second. Andrew Anderson ran it in from 11 yards out and the defense held on to preserve a very convincing win.

NASTY BUNCH IS BACK!

Florida State	49
USM	13

Florida State 49 USM 13—The Golden Eagles led or remained close in almost every statistical category except the one that counted—the scoreboard. USM had almost a four minute edge in time of possession and was close to even in most of the others. Despite the statistics, the outcome of the game came down to one thing—FSU was able to find the endzone often, and USM couldn't. The Seminoles scored first on a 94-yard drive late in the first period and never looked back. They rolled up 21 points in the second quarter, including a 47-yard interception return.

USM scored first midway through the third quarter to cut the lead to 28-7, but a 14-yard pass and a 51-yard interception return pushed the score to 42-7, the Golden Eagles tailed on a 52-yard scoring strike from Andrew Anderson to Lyneal Alston, but the two-point conversion failed, a 62-yard run by FSU in the fourth quarter made it a final of 49-13.

USM	31
Louisville	16

USM 31 LOUISVILLE 16—Cardinals scored first late in the first quarter to take a 7-0 lead, but Shelton Gandy burst forth with 10 seconds left in the quarter to knot it up. A 56-yard bomb from Andrew Anderson to Lyneal Alston put the Golden Eagles on top, and a 73-yard punt return by Andrew Mott made it a 21-7 halftime advantage.

In the second half USM answered a UL field goal with a Gandy touchdown. The Cards scored a touchdown in the final period, but missed the two-point conversion as Rex Banks put the game away with a 44-yard field goal to wrap up USM's 10th straight win in Roberts Stadium and finish the season with a 6-5 record.

USM FOOTBALL . . .

"We finished with another winning season here, our fourth in the last five years," USM coach Jim Carmody said. The Golden Eagles lose some quality seniors off of this year's squad, but return some top-notch players who should make next season as exciting as this one was.

N.I.T. Champs

Frank Sinatra would have been proud. The Golden Eagles took Ol' Blue Eyes' hit "New York New York" to heart and by utilizing talent, hard work and just a touch of luck, was able to legitimately add the phrase "king of the hill, top of the heap" to the Southern Mississippi name.

NIT champions. That one phrase alone was able to send the entire campus into a toilet papering, partying frenzy and turned what at one time looked to be a disappointing season into a dream come true.

The season, which seemed to begin eons ago, was tipped off by a visit by the Northeast Louisana Indians to Reed Green Coliseum. NLU was coming off of a home contest with eventual SEC champion Alabama and looked to give the Golden Eagles a tough first game. A crowd of 5,920 saw USM turn a tremendous first game performance by knocking off the Indians 84-69.

USM saw their bubble popped early, as eventual NIT participant Arkansas State welcomed the Golden Eagles to Pine Bluff by inflicting an 85-72 defeat on the visitors from Hattiesburg.

The Golden Eagles rebounded well from that loss, by dominating the South Alabama Jaguars 101-80. Victories over Central Arkansas, Cal-Riverside and Georgia College followed, putting USM at 5-1 going another big step for USM basketball.

Saturday, December 20th dawned as a beautiful day and the air was filled with electricity. North Texas State was in town and ESPN also in town to broadcast it—the first nationally televised game ever for the Golden Eagles. USM jumped out to an 11-0 lead and never looked back—the nation saw the Golden Eagles hit 52 percent from the field, 92 percent from the line and put six players in double figures as they totally dominated NTSU 92-58.

USM cranked out three more victories to run their record to 9-1 before dropping the championship game of the Crystal Classic.

When the Christmas break was over the Golden Eagles found themselves on the road for two games as Metro play got underway. A win over Cincinnati and a loss to South Carolina set their conference record at 1-1 to set the stage for the game everyone had been waiting for—a visit by defending national champion Louisville.

Students began standing in line three hours before tipoff in order to assure themselves of a seat for this game—almost 7500 people packed their way into Reed Green and a good crowd of people who couldn't gain admittance into the coliseum filled up the USM union, who was showing the game off of a satellite feed. The Golden Eagles set the crowd(s) to rocking by knocking off the Cardinals 76-69. USM accomplished the feat by forcing UL into 24 turnovers and by utilizing the three point shot to gain control.

The Golden Eagles fell to earth rather quickly, when on a visit to Blacksburg the Virginia Tech Hokies knocked off USM 85-72.

USM hit a roller coaster ride at this point—They followed with a win over Jackson State, a loss to Florida State, a win over McNeese, a loss to USL and a win over South Carolina. Everybody was wondering which was the real USM team.

The power of the Golden Eagles was revealed in the next game, when they travelled to Tennessee and shocked the Memphis State Tigers 84-77. It was the first time MSU had lost a home conference game since 1983 and reestablished USM as a serious Metro contender.

The Tigers returned the favor two weeks later, when they came to Reed Green and defeated USM 76-72.

The Golden Eagles travelled to Louisville for another confrontation with the defending national champions and took the Cardinals to overtime before dropping a heartbreaking one point decision. A last second shot by Casey Fisher went in and rolled out as the final buzzer sounded.

USM pulled out victories over Cinncinnati and Virginia Tech before dropping a two point decision to Arkansas State and a 117-102 high scoring affair to Florida State to end the regular season with a 17-10 record.

As the Metro tournament got underway in Louisville, the Golden Eagles were determined to get one monkey off of their back—USM had never before won a postseason game in Division I. They got rid of that demon once and for all with an 83-66 defeat of Virginia Tech. Host Louisville ended the Metro season for USM, 78-71.

The NIT extended the season for the Golden Eagles, and really stirred up the excitement by announcing that the Ole Miss Rebels would be visiting Hattiesburg for the first round. A crowd of 8,095, highest of the season in Reed Green, saw USM jump out to a 36 point lead and coast to a dominating 93-75 victory.

USM found themselves traveling north up the Mississippi for the second round, facing the St. Louis Billikens on the road. Casey Fisher's 6-9 and Jon White's 4-7 performances from the three point line guided the Golden Eagles to an 83-78 overtime win.

The Golden Eagles found themselves in the road once more in the third round to face the Vanderbilt Commodores for a berth in the final four. USM shot to an 18 point halftime lead and used a wide repertoire of shots in the second half to earn a trip to the big Apple, 95-88.

After falling behind 22-9 early on in their semifinal contest with Nebraska, the Golden Eagles fought back to take a 43-42 halftime lead. They put the 'Huskers away in the second half to take an 82-75 win and put them in the finals.

The Championship game against La Salle turned out to be a three point school conducted by the Golden Eagles. Both teams put up 24 shots from beyond 19-9, with USM making 11 and La Salle only four. The Explorers were able to cut the USM lead to two with only six seconds left. A sharp defensive play by Derek Hamilton led to a steal by White, who sunk both of his ensuing foul shots to clinch the title for the Golden Eagles.

At the tournament's end, it was announced that Derek Hamilton was named to the all NIT team, Randolph Keys was named tournament MVP and Turk was declared NIT coach of the year. Congratulations to the Golden Eagles for an outstanding season—the first national title ever for a Mississippi school.

Lady Eagles—Metro Champs!

Cautiously optimistic was the catch phrase for the 1986-87 edition of USM Lady Eagles basketball. The Lady Eagles were coming off of a disappointing 12-15 record from the year before and were returning only one starter. However, coach Kay James had six letter winners returning, plus the addition of two junior college All-Americans to help booster the losses inflicted by graduation and give a ray of hope for the upcoming season.

The Lady Eagles came out of the blocks determined to concentrate on the positive aspects of the team and make this a banner year. They succeeded admirably. When the dust had settled at the end of the season. The Lady Eagles had accomplished something no other team in any other sport had ever done at USM—captured a Metro Conference Title.

USM began the season on the road, as the Lady Eagles made it to the championship game of the Northwestern (La.) State Lady Demon Christmas Classic before dropping an 81-71 decision to the host Lady Demons.

After a 70-62 win over Mississippi College and a heartbreaking two point loss to Tulane, USM played host to Mississippi State, who came to Hattiesburg determined to flex their SEC muscles. The Lady Eagles were not impressed and showed it in a 60-57 victory that sent MSU back to Starkville to make plans for USM's return engagement later in the season.

The Lady Eagles then reeled off three consecutive road victories, including a 72-63 win over Louisville in the Metro opener for both teams. After a 74-63 road loss to Cincinnati that evened their Metro record at 1-1, the Lady Eagles traveled to Starkville to face the revenge-minded Mississippi State team. Their plans fell by the wayside as USM took another three point win, 58-55, to sweep the series with MSU.

The Lady Eagles slipped into a tailspin at this point, dropping three straight Metro games to Virginia Tech, Memphis State, and Florida State. Determined not to be written off this early in the season, USM then reeled off five straight victories, including three conference wins to even their Metro record at 4-4 and a victory over Hattiesburg rival William Carey.

Virginia Tech brought the team back to earth by dealing USM a 76-65 loss, but they bounced right back with another five game winning streak, including another win over Carey to sweep that series and Metro victories over top ranked Memphis State and Florida State.

South Carolina ended the Metro regular season on a down note for the Lady Eagles by inflicting a 61-46 defeat on them. However, USM was able to bounce back and wrap up the regular season with a 95-72 shellacking of Jackson State.

Any coach will tell you that a win, whether it is by two points or 22 is still a win. The Lady Eagles proved that by capturing the Metro Conference tournament title and the automatic NCAA bid that went with it with three straight two point victories—70-68 over Louisville, 74-72 in overtime over top seeded Memphis State and 68-66 over South Carolina in the championship game to earn only the second NCAA bid in school history.

Tennessee Tech brought an abrupt end the Lady Eagles' title dream and also to their season in the first round of the NCAA's by drubbing USM 78-66. The Lady Eagles finished what was considered by many to be a "rebuilding" year with a 21-9 record, a Metro championship and a berth in the NCAA playoffs. If only rebuilding was so painless every time!

Attracting crowds of over 300 people per game, the USM soccer team has become the number four spectator sport. The team has made a transition over the past years to become a balanced mixture of students from both the United States and other countries.

The team offers a high level of playing as well as entertainment. The highpoint of the season was their win over Alabama.

The USM men's swim team finished the season in sixth place in the National Independent Conference Championship. The men's team had several accomplishments of which their head coach, Mike Giles, was very proud. They set 14 new school records, had 29 qualifiers for the finals as well as maintaining the highest G.P.A. on Campus (2.70). Finishing out the season with a 7-8 record, the team had top finishers at the Metro Conference which included, Jimmy Roberts, Todd Horndash, Bernie Geison, and John Nelson. Jimmy Roberts, Bernie Geison, Tau losia, and John Sayles placed sixth in the men's 400 Free Relay and fifth in the men's 400 Medley Relay.

The women's swim team, with their second year on USM's campus, finished the season with a 4-9 record. The lady Eagles also set 11 new school records for the year, and had 24 qualifiers for the finals in 1987. Among their accomplishments Coach Giles was especially proud of the women swimmers for having the highest team G.P.A. on campus (2.90) and for having the highest point total in the Metro as well as in the N.I.C. meet. Giles said, "that since the team is comprised of no seniors, all the members would return next year."

Under the leadership of Dr. Larry "Doc" Harrington, the USM Men's Tennis team finished out the season with an impressive mark of 15-7. The Eagles played in the Metro Conference Tournament as well as winning the Florida Invitational, and placing second in the U.S. Invitational Tournament.

The Golden Eagles continued their improving ways in 1987, as USM possessed a 20-26 record as this went to press. In comparison, after 46 games last season the Golden Eagles were 23-23.

Coach Hill Denson's squad awaited the beginning of the season with optimism after posting a 31-30 record last year. West Florida and Spring Hill brought them back down to earth by pinning consecutive one-run losses on them to start the season for the next four games to even their record at 3-3. A loss at Livingston sent the Golden Eagles to Tallahassee to face highly ranked Florida State in a three game Metro series. The Seminoles took the first two games, but Stacy Cameron led the Golden Eagles to an 11-8 upset in the third game.

A loss at South Alabama ended the six game road trip by the Golden Eagles and set USM's record at 4-7, but a visit by Southeastern Louisiana to Pete Taylor Park snapped the Golden Eagles back into their winning ways. USM sent SLU back to Hammond after inflicting a 22-2 beating on the Lions. A four game road trip followed soon thereafter; a sweep of Arkansas-Little Rock and a split with Northeast Louisiana set the USM record at 10-9.

The Golden Eagles dropped a contest with South Alabama to put their record back at .500, but a four game win streak, culminated by a 3-1 victory over number one ranked Florida State pushed it to 14-10. The Seminoles took the next two games by slim margins, but USM rebounded with five straight victories, including a 12-11 win over Alabama in Tuscaloosa.

USM faced always tough Southern California in the first round of the South Alabama tournament, and lost a heartbreaking 1-0 decision. The Golden Eagles dropped two of three Metro games at Memphis State before coming home and splitting a two game series with Alcorn State.

A visit to Mississippi College turned out to be rather profitable for the Golden Eagles, as they ran off a 16-2 victory. They then took two of three from Memphis State in their visit to Hattiesburg to put their record at 24-17. USM spent Easter weekend in New Orleans; after dropping a doubleheader to Tulane, the Golden Eagles knocked off eight ranked UNO at Privateer Park. Northeast Louisiana invaded Taylor Park for a two game series, and left Hattiesburg with a split to run USM's record to 26-20.

The USM traveling, song-and-dance group, "Southern Exposure," celebrated their 10th season on the road during the 1986-87 school year.

The group is produced and sponsored by the USM Public Relations office and travels throughout the deep South performing for conventions, trade shows, high schools, junior colleges, or any other place an audience can be found.

This year's 75 minute show entitled, "Let's Get Excited", includes some of the best of all types of popular music, including: pop-rock, country, Broadway, gospel, etc. The performance is accented with the high-energy, fast—paced, choreography of group choreographer Nancy Wingo-Caffey.

Southern Exposure is composed of USM students chosen in open auditions in the fall of each year. Members of the group come from many different majors within the university and therefore really represent the USM student body as a whole.

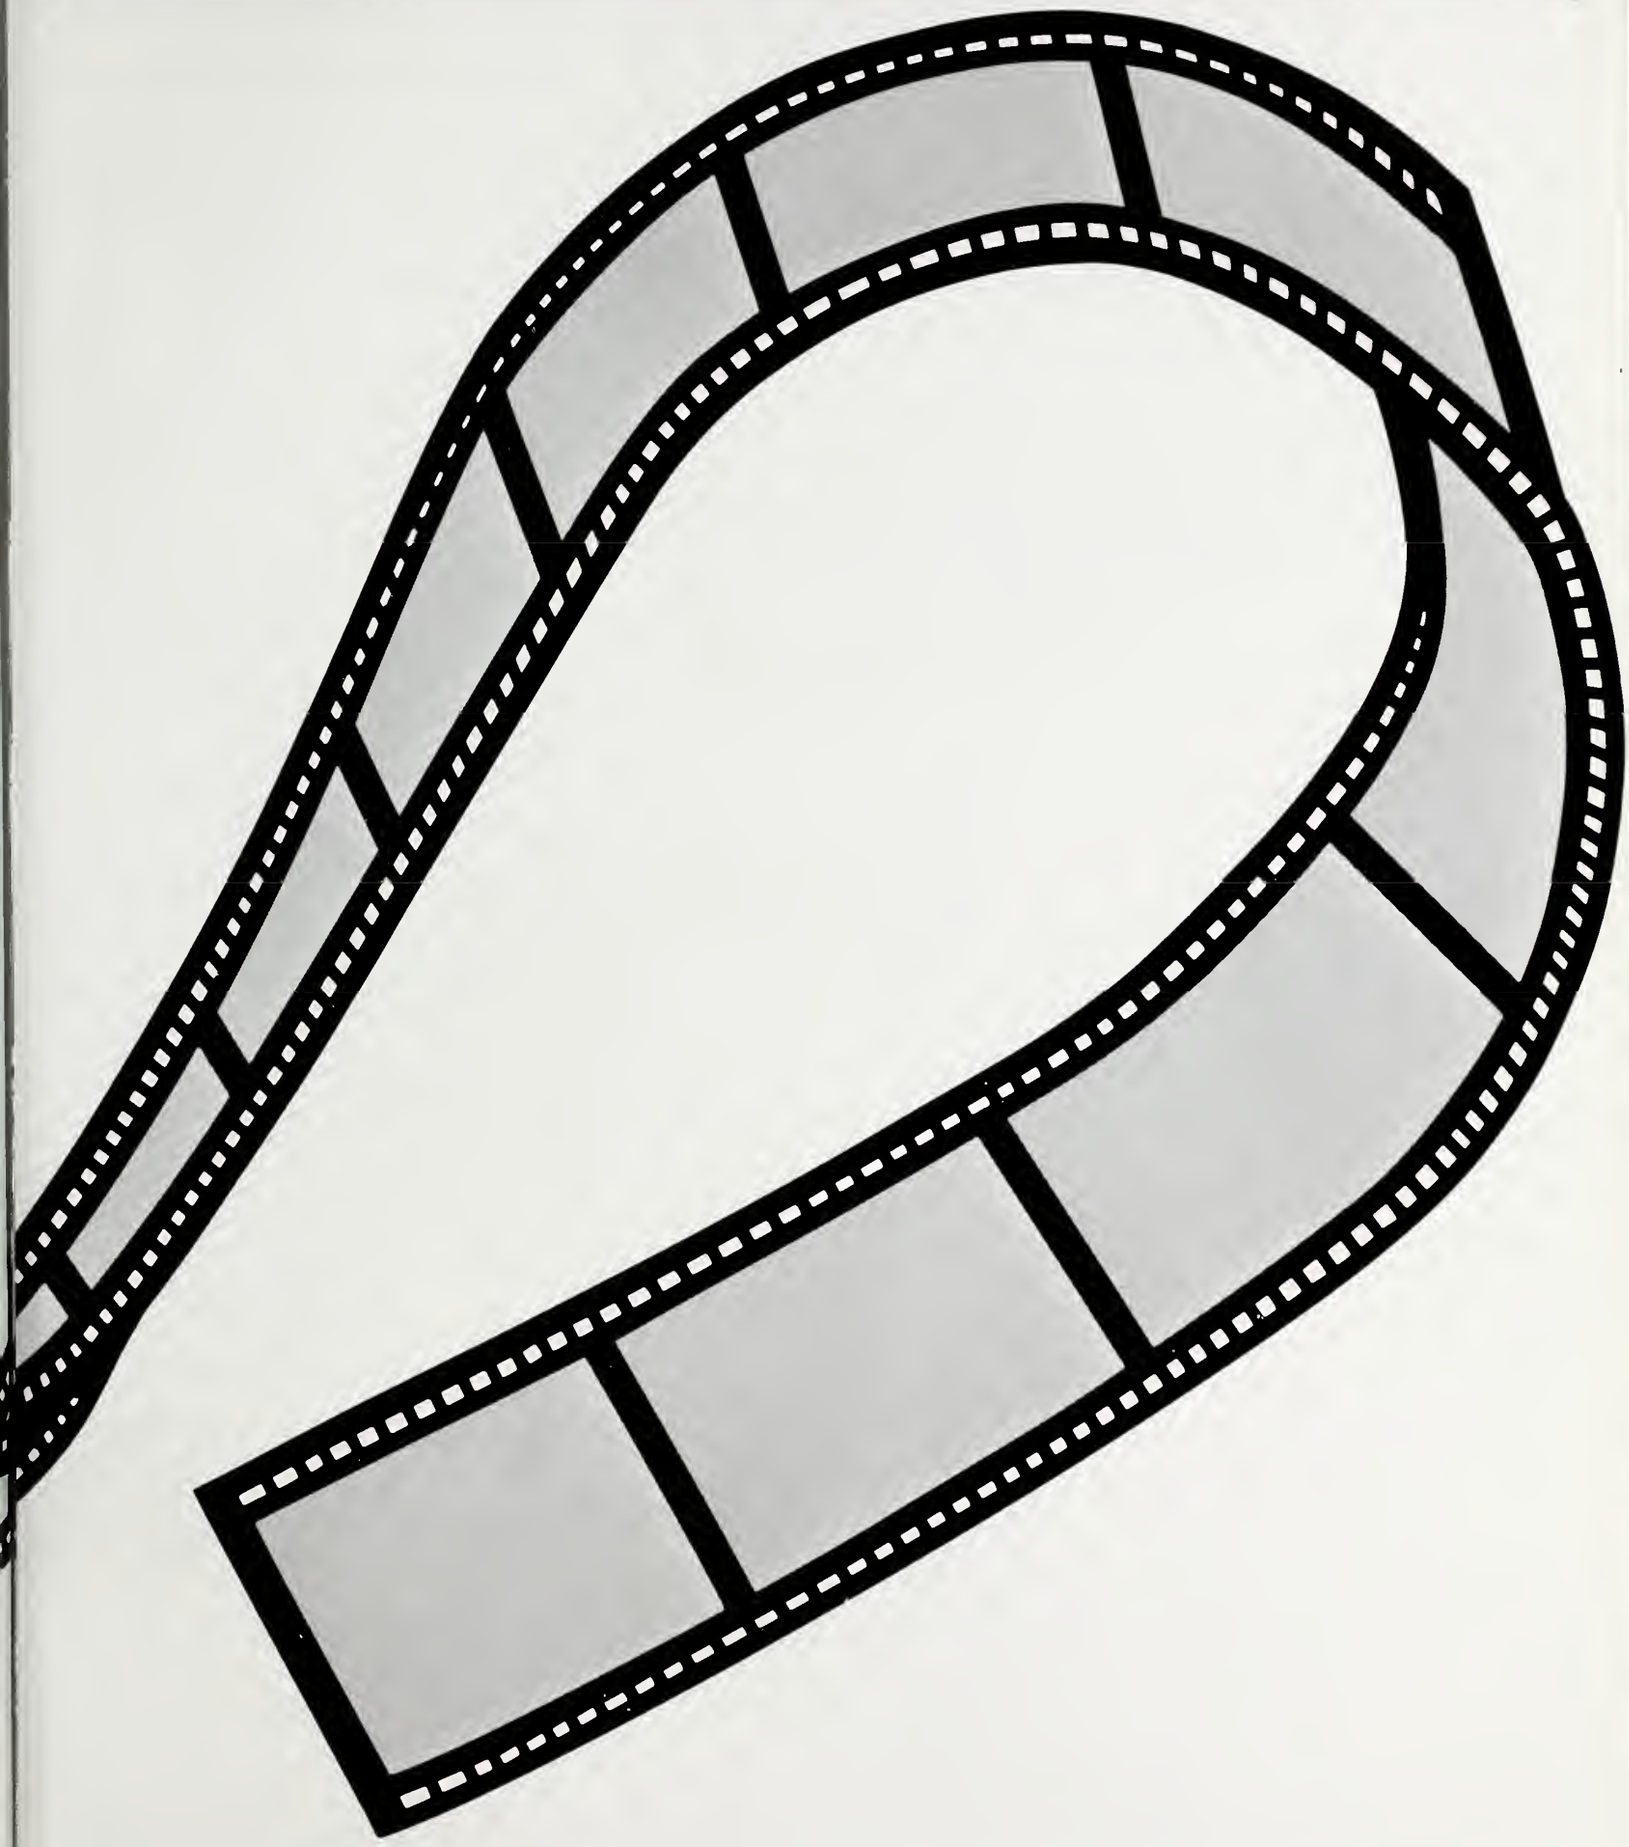
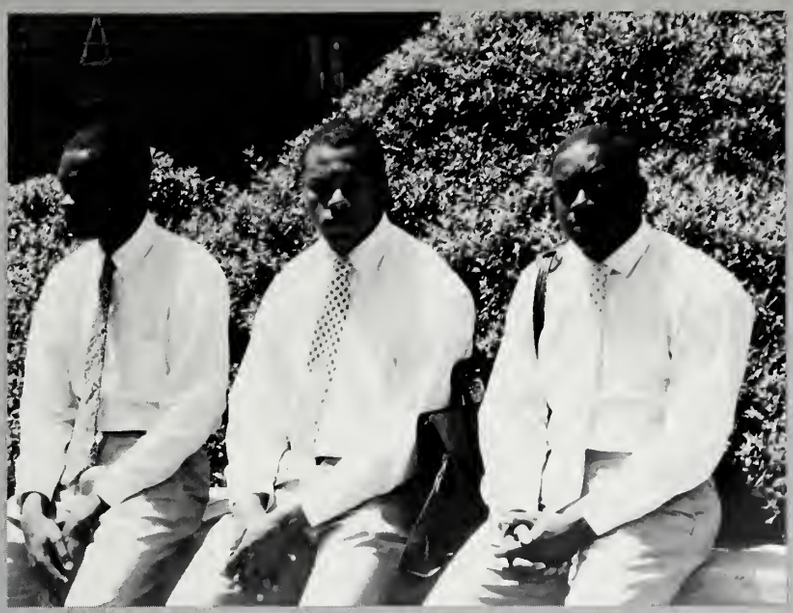
SEARCH FOR TOMORROW



Do you recall the day you came to college so "Young and Restless?"



Now we see ourselves entering the "real" world as the "Bold and Beautiful."

As our "search" comes to an end, we will venture into a new and curious phase.

We have before us paths to choose from which will lead us to "Another World"—whether it be family, graduate school, career or all of these.

But no matter what we choose we will always cherish the memories we have made here at USM.

These special memories will even someday be shared with all of your children as they begin their college career.

Yes . . . these were the best "Days of Our Lives."

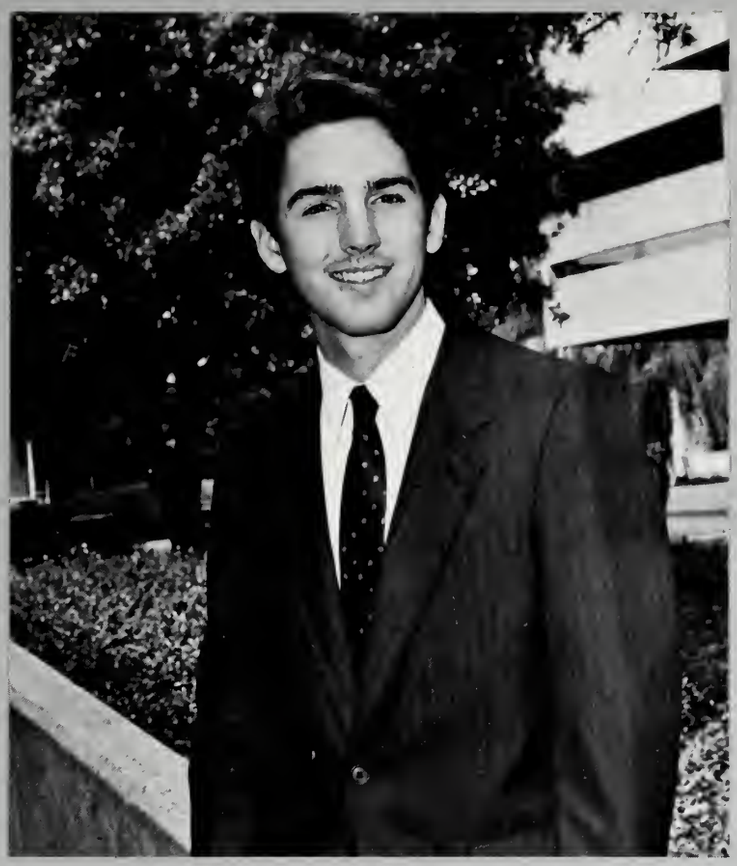
Editor's Note



When I first came to USM, I hadn't intended on being on the Southerner staff much less becoming the Editor. Nevertheless, four years later I am the Editor, panicking about making the last deadline. Being Editor of USM's yearbook has been one of the most challenging experiences of my life. I recall the first problem we encountered was being required to spend countless hours in the office without a television. So the only way to solve this problem was to place a TV in the Southerner office. Now, we've become the soap opera update center for the university. I don't think we could have produced such a lengthy book without the needed inspiration from "Days of Our Lives" and "Another World".

There are so many people I would like to thank for their support and assistance. Without Teri Sue Bankston and Renee McGuffee's hard work we couldn't have met all the deadlines. I would also like to extend my appreciation to Warren Dunn, Minnie Austin, Eva Metz, Vicki Wilson, Joe Paul, Berta Laiche and their office staffs. Special recognition should be given to Lou Johnson, Larry Hollis and the Herff Jones Publishing Company for bringing the book to life. Also, without the encouragement of my parents, some special friends, my Sigma Chi Fraternity brothers and the ladies of Kappa Delta, this would not have been possible. Last but not least, I would like to thank the Administration and the Student Body for their support and assistance. There is no doubt in my mind USM really is #1.
